MIZZOU FOOTBALL MEDIA POLICIES

TRAINING CAMP INFORMATION – AUGUST 1- 22

All Mizzou Football fall camp practices (August 1-22) are open to media for a specified period of time (approximately the first 45 minutes), with practices taking place at either the Kadlec Athletic Fields, at Faurot Field, or inside the Devine Pavilion. Please check with the Media Relations Office for a location update. ALL PRACTICE TIMES LISTED ARE TENTATIVE AND SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

TRAINING CAMP INTERVIEW POLICIES

Selected Mizzou coaches and student-athletes are available for interviews after each camp practice, with interviews being conducted on the field post-practice. Please see the tentative schedule which follows. Media will be escorted from practice after the initial open period, and can come back at a specified time once practice is over to conduct interviews.

TRAINING CAMP PHOTOGRAPHY POLICIES

All Mizzou Football camp practices are open for photography purposes for media outlets. The photography period is limited to approximately the first 45 minutes, however, and photographers/videographers will be escorted from practice after that period.

MIZZOU®

2013 SEASON PREVIEW

Enthusiasm is palpable in the Missouri Tiger football program, as the team begins fall camp in Columbia, Mo. for the 2013 season. That's no real surprise, as every team around the country is undoubtedly excited for the start of a new year. One might be hard-pressed, however, to find a team that is collectively more excited to get going again than Mizzou.

Certainly, that feeling is largely centered around redemption. In 2012, a team that many prognosticators felt could challenge for the Eastern Division title in its new Southeastern Conference home, suffered the school's first losing season (5-7 overall, 2-6 in SEC play) since 2004. That broke a school-record streak of seven-consecutive bowl games that Head Coach Gary Pinkel and all Tiger fans had become very accustomed to.

A wave of injuries on the offensive side of the ball – particularly focused on the offensive line and quarterback positions – handcuffed Mizzou's traditionally potent spread offense, and that in turn put added pressure on a defense that showed signs of great play, but which appeared to wear down late in the year. Combine the plethora of injuries with the fact that Mizzou's 2012 schedule was ranked as the toughest in the nation (Sagarin) and that was a classic recipe for a challenging year.

Just how impactful were the injuries? The offensive line had only one player start all 12 games, and that was true freshman guard Evan Boehm, who wasn't even expected to be a starter in 2012. Of the 60 potential starts in MU's 12 games by the pre-season starting five linemen, only 23 of those were made by the right guy in the right position. At one point in the season, six of Mizzou's projected top-10 linemen going into the year were out with a variety of injuries.

That lack of continuity no doubt led to an inconsistent year offensively for the Tigers, and the difficulties permeated to the quarterback spot – such a crucial cog in the spread attack. James Franklin, who had nearly 4,000 yards of total offense (2,865 passing, 981 rushing) and 36 total touchdowns in 2011 (21 passing, 15 rushing), could start only eight games in 2012, and he was unable to finish two of those games due to injuries sustained during play. Franklin threw for 10 TDs on the year, but was held without a rushing touchdown, and that drop in production (he ended with 1,684 yards of total offense) made the going tough for every aspect of the season.

The Tiger defense showed early in the season that it was capable of big things, as it helped win a pair of close games against eventual bowl teams in Arizona State and at Central Florida. The defense also played well enough to win games against Vanderbilt (allowing only 19 points in a loss) and at 7th-ranked Florida (allowing only 14 points in a loss), but late-game breakdowns against the Commodores and later in the season against Syracuse (the Orange drove for the game-winning TD in the closing seconds) left both sides of the ball feeling they could have done more.

"The injuries were like nothing I've ever seen, and I've been coaching for a long time," said Pinkel. "But in the end, my job is to solve the problem and find a way to win no matter how many guys are out of the lineup, and it didn't get done. What we'll do is learn from it and take what we can out of the situation to make our program better," he said.

But when fall camp kicks off with the Tigers' first practice on August 1st, the 2012 season will be a distant memory, and it's on to the potential and promise of the future. There's plenty for Tiger fans to be excited about.

The Tigers had a productive spring camp and summer conditioning program that fueled some outstanding competition. That's a word you will hear Coach Pinkel repeat early and often in any conversation regarding his team. That's always been the case in his program, whether it was his first year of a rebuilding project or after a 12-win season.

"The foundation of our program is competition," said Pinkel. "It always has been, and it always will be, there are no guaranteed positions on the team. Everyone has to go out there and earn their spots, earn their playing time. If a young guy beats a veteran out, they beat them out, it's for the good of the team. There's a lot of examples over the years, but one I always point to is when Brad Smith won the quarterback job as a redshirt freshman. He beat out a senior who had been a starter for a couple of seasons," he said.

The competition this fall should be compelling, and the Tiger coaching staff should benefit from seeing a full roster, as most everyone who was injured in 2012 is expected to be ready for full go when camp opens. One of the most-watched Tigers will likely be junior TB Henry Josey, who returned to contact in the spring for the first time since injuring his left knee on Nov. 12, 2011 against Texas. Josey was in the midst of a record-breaking year (he ran for 1,168 yards in only 10 games in 2011 before suffering the injury), and his return to the field should be inspirational for everyone to see.

Fourteen position starters return in 2013 for Mizzou, with eight on offense and six on defense. Also back in the mix is sophomore PK Andrew Baggett, who won SEC All-Freshman honors a year ago in his first year on the job. Add Josey's return to the mix, and there's a lot of experience coming back for the Tigers.

Here's a look at the position breakdown heading into fall camp:

OFFENSE

As documented earlier, the Tiger offense had a tough year in 2012. After ranking 12th in the NCAA in total offense in 2011 (475.54 yards per game), Mizzou slipped to 96th in the same category in 2012 (356.42 avg.). From 2005-11, MU's offense ranked on average 19th nationally in total offense, including four seasons in which it posted a top-12 ranking, so the showing last season was a stark departure from the norm around the Tiger program.

The good news is that a lot of firepower is back in 2013. Eight starters return from a year ago (that figure could be argued to be nine in reality with Josey's return), including QB James Franklin, four offensive linemen in LT Justin Britt, LG Max Copeland, RT Mitch Morse and C Evan Boehm, receivers L'Damian Washington and Marcus Lucas and TE Eric Waters.

"We had become pretty used to having a lot of success offensively, so last year was a new experience," said Pinkel. "But we have a lot of proven guys back and healthy, and with the younger guys pushing them, I expect there to be a lot of improvement," he said.

QUARTERBACK

With Mizzou's spread offense, it all starts with quarterback play, and as noted previously, the going was tough for Tiger signal callers in 2012. James Franklin battled shoulder, knee and head injuries which limited him to only eight games, and his production dropped from 3,746 yards of total offense and 36 combined TDs in 2011 to just 1,684 yards of total offense and 10 combined TDs in 2012. Corbin Berkstresser filled in admirably in relief, and started in wins over Arizona State and Kentucky, but found the going tough overall, along with the rest of his offensive teammates. Berkstresser finished the season with 1,059 passing yards in 10 games (four starts) while throwing for five touchdowns and rushing for three scores.

Franklin is back and healthy and ready to return to form from two years ago, while Berkstresser should look even more comfortable running the controls after his year of seasoning.

But that duo isn't the only talent in the stables, as three freshmen will battle to show that they can compete for playing time, as well.

Redshirt freshman Maty Mauk headlines that group, and he'll begin fall listed second on the depth chart. Mauk was a Parade All-American who set national passing records for career yards (18,932), touchdown passes (219), completions (1,353) and total offense (22,681) in his prep days in Kenton, Ohio, and his familiarity with the spread attack shouldn't be discounted.

Joining the group is a pair of highly-touted true freshmen signal callers who competed during the spring after graduating early from high school to enroll at Mizzou. Trent Hosick was a prolific winner at Kansas City's Staley high school, where he won state championships in football and individually in wrestling. Looking to go toe-to-toe as well with the group is Eddie Printz of Marietta, Ga., who was considered one of the top pro-style quarterback prospects in the nation after throwing for nearly 8,600 yards and 80 touchdowns over the last three seasons at Lassiter High School. The duo enters fall camp tied for fourth on the depth.

TAILBACK

A bright spot for the Tiger offense a year ago was the solid play of Kendial Lawrence, who ran for 1,025 yards despite the offensive line issues. Lawrence has been lost to graduation, but because of the return of junior Henry Josey from a year off, the Tigers get to replace one 1,000-yard rusher with another who was possibly on his way to national acclaim before being injured late in the 2011 season.

After a solid spring camp, Josey begins the fall back atop the depth chart, and he'll likely be the most-watched individual on the field during training camp. If he can regain the form that saw him rush for 1,168 yards and nine touchdowns in 2011 (averaging an eye-popping 8.1 yards per attempt), the Tiger offense can only go upward.

But the tailback depth chart is littered with more than just Josey. Sophomore Russell Hansbrough enters camp listed second on the depth chart, and he'll have a chance to expand on the reserve role he played a year ago as a true freshman. Hansbrough showed enough ability early in his first year with the program to merit ditching his redshirt, and he ended the year with 37 carries for 139 yards (3.8 avg.).

Junior Marcus Murphy, who made quite a splash in 2012 as one of the nation's most dangerous kick returners (with four scores – three punt returns and one kickoff return), stands third on the depth entering camp. Murphy only had 46 carries a year ago, as Lawrence got the bulk of the work, but he did average a team-best 5.5 yards per carry, and his career rushing average of 6.4 yards is impressive.

Program veterans such as junior Greg White (five career carries in 11 games) and redshirt freshman Morgan Steward will look to battle their way up the depth. Steward was having a very impressive fall camp last August before his progress got derailed by an injury. Eventually, it was decided a redshirt was the best course for him, and he's ready to throw his skills in the mix and provide quality depth to a pretty well-stacked position.

RECEIVERS

Big things are expected from a group of proven receivers who return to the fold in 2013 and have the potential to give Mizzou's passing game as good of quality depth in years.

Six of MU's eight top receivers from a year ago are back, and despite losing the sure-handed T.J. Moe to graduation, things look bright going forward for the receiving corps. Senior Marcus Lucas led the Tigers with 46 receptions and 509 yards a year ago (and added three touchdowns), and he's back looking to man the X-receiver position. He'll battle there with sophomore Dorial Green-Beckham, who showed flashes as a true freshman why he was considered by most to be the nation's top recruit in 2012. Green-Beckham took awhile to find his footing, but ended the year on a strong push, and ended with a team-best five receiving TDs, to go with 28 receptions for 395 yards. Sophomore Wesley Leftwich, a Columbia native who is brimming with athleticism, is also eager to show what he can do.

The H-receiver position is headlined by junior Bud Sasser, who emerged to start the final six games of the season at the Z-receiver spot in 2012. Sasser caught 10 passes for 231 yards a year ago, and his per-catch average of 23.1 was best on the team. He's got the speed to get deep on the edge, as evidenced by his 85-yard catch-and-run TD in the fourth quarter against Vanderbilt a year ago. Sasser will be pushed for playing time by junior Jimmie Hunt, after his sophomore season in which he caught 11 passes for 199 yards and three touchdowns. Hunt's 18.1 yards per catch average was impressive, and he also returned a kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown at Tennessee to help Mizzou to a thrilling four-overtime win. Of his 12 career receptions coming into the year, four have gone for scores. Redshirt freshman Levi Copelin opens camp listed third on the depth chart here.

At the Z-receiver spot, senior L'Damian Washington is tops on the depth, and looking to get a hold on the position after making six starts at the Z-spot and six at the X-spot a year ago. Washington is a proven performer who caught 25 passes for 443 yards and two scores in 2012, and he's got the kind of elusiveness and hands that should translate well to any of the wideout positions. Washington will be pushed for playing time by senior Jaleel Clark, a program veteran who has logged 38 games of experience, and a new talent, junior Darius White, will join the competition. White sat out 2012 after transferring from Texas, where he played in 21 games from 2010-11 after winning Parade All-American honors in high school.

The tight end spot looks to be a compelling battle between redshirt freshman Sean Culkin and senior Eric Waters. Culkin enters camp listed atop the depth chart after showing in the spring that he's got the ability to be a difference-maker here. Culkin was turning heads left and right last fall and was likely on the fast track to playing in 2012 before a broken finger in training camp put those plans on hold. Culkin ended up taking a redshirt, but he's healthy and ready to compete for playing time in 2013. Waters returns after making seven starts a year ago. He caught four passes for 27 yards in 2012, but contributed more than that, as he was used extensively in the run game and in pass protection schemes, where he proved valuable.

OFFENSIVE LINE

It's hard to imagine a single position unit having a more difficult go of it than what Mizzou's offensive line experienced a year ago, with its rash of injuries. As noted previously, only one lineman was healthy enough to start all 12 games, and that was true freshman guard Evan Boehm, who wasn't even expected to be a starter going into the season. Of the projected starting five linemen going into the 2012 season, those five were only able to make 23 starts (out of 60 possible) combined at the position they were supposed to man.

The good news is that's all in the past, and after an off-season of healing, the line looks to be healthy and ready to go in 2013. Mizzou returns four starters here from a year ago, including 48 of the 60 starts on the season (losing only Elvis Fisher and his nine starts and Jack Meiners and his three starts).

Boehm is the headliner of the group, as the 2012 true freshman was akin to a gift from above for Tiger coaches, who had hoped to bring him along at a measured pace. But Boehm showed right away he was physically ready to play, and when the injuries started taking their toll, he stepped into a starting role and performed well enough to merit 1st-Team Freshman All-American honors by College Football News. Boehm enters fall ball listed atop the depth chart at center (moving from left guard), and coaches love him in the spot as they consider him a natural-born leader and a great fit there.

Sophomore Brad McNulty, who made five starts there as a redshirt freshman in 2012, is next up on the depth at center. Despite his youth and inexperience, McNulty showed potential last year, and when he started the last three games of the season, Mizzou's offense produced its three highest single-game yardage outputs all year. Program veterans Robert Luce and Mitch Hall will compete here, as well.

The ever-important left tackle position is in good hands with the return of senior Justin Britt, who has 22 career starts. Britt was manning the right tackle spot primarily in 2012 before he suffered a left knee injury in game nine at Florida and was lost for the remainder of the year. After getting surgery to fix things up, Britt returned to practice this spring, and he'll move back to the left tackle spot where he started all 13 games in 2011 and contributed to the Tiger offense which ranked 12th in the NCAA in total offense. Britt will be pushed by junior Anthony Gatti (12 career games) and junior Chris Freeman for the starting job. Freeman is a 6-foot-8, 335-pound man mountain with plenty of potential who looks to provide quality depth on the edge after playing in five games the last two seasons combined.

At right tackle, junior Mitch Morse returns after a season which saw him float back and forth between center and tackle as injuries juggled the lineup constantly in 2012. Morse made 11 starts a year ago, including seven at center and four at right tackle. He opens camp atop the depth chart there, and he'll look to compete with sophomore Taylor Chappell and sophomore Michael Boddie, who saw two games in reserve duty last season as a redshirt freshman. Chappell was expected to be part of the rotation at right tackle in 2012, and was playing very well early in August training camp until a season-ending knee injury shot those plans out the window. After surgery and rehab, Chappell is ready to go this fall.

Left guard is manned by arguably the top story among the line in all of 2012, in senior-to-be Max Copeland. A previously-unheralded walk-on, Copeland surfaced as the unexpected starter, making the most of his opportunities a year ago. A fierce competitor and one of the true characters in all of college football, Copeland was awarded with a scholarship in late August and ended up making starts at the right guard spot in 11-of-12 games. He'll open fall camp at left guard, where he'll be challenged primarily by sophomore transfer Mitch Hall. Hall originally attended Ole Miss, but left there following a redshirt in 2011, and after sitting out last season due to NCAA transfer rules, the 6-foot-5, 320-pound athlete is ready to knock heads.

The right guard position will feature a trio of talented Tigers looking to battle for the top job. The favorite entering camp is sophomore Connor McGovern, who saw action in nine games a year ago (primarily at center). Junior Nick Demien (three career games) is second on the depth entering camp, and he's followed closely by promising redshirt freshman Jordan Williams, who moves from tackle after redshirting last season due to a knee injury.

DEFENSE

On paper, the defense looks to be in need of a little more rebuilding than their offensive counterparts, as six starters return for a unit which ranked 58th nationally in total defense in 2012 (390.67 yards per game allowed). The Tigers excelled in getting the ball out last season, as they led the nation with 21 forced fumbles (recovering 16).

All six returning defensive starters are upperclassmen, and the group is headlined by senior CB E.J. Gaines and senior LB Andrew Wilson. Senior DE Michael Sam and junior DE Kony Ealy provide a talented set of bookends on the defensive line, while junior DT Matt Hoch and junior FS Braylon Webb are also back after starting all 12 games a year ago.

"We played very well defensively much of last season, but couldn't maintain that consistently enough," said Pinkel. "We have to have that high level play day in and day out, and that's what we'll be looking for. We've got to have both sides of the ball working in unison and feeding off of each other. We've got some really talented players on defense and some great leadership that we'll need to get things going," he said.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Three starters return in the trenches for the Tiger defensive line, and they're three good ones, in senior DE Michael Sam, junior DE Kony Ealy and junior DT Matt Hoch. Gone is 2012 1st-Team All-SEC DT Sheldon Richardson (who bypassed his final year of eligibility to be chosen #13 overall in the 2013 NFL Draft by the New York Jets), and while a player of his talent will be hard to replace, line coach Craig Kuligowski still has plenty to work with.

Ealy made 10 starts a year ago and had a breakout season, as he was a disruptive force, with 37 tackles, 10.0 tackles for loss, 3.5 sacks, seven pass break ups, five quarterback pressures and a forced fumble. With another year of experience under his belt, big things are expected of the New Madrid, Mo. native. Sam is a proven performer who has always shown a knack for being around the ball. In 2012, Sam had 4.5 sacks, four quarterback pressures, two forced fumbles and a recovered fumble, which he returned for a touchdown.

Those two stand atop the depth chart on either side of the defensive line, with Ealy backed up by sophomore Shane Ray (16 tackles, three QB pressures in 2012) and redshirt freshman Rickey Hatley.

Sam will have senior Brayden Burnett (37 career games) and junior Markus Golden pushing for playing time behind him. Golden played linebacker a year ago after transferring from junior college, but he's bulked up to 255 pounds and is ready to use his quickness and athletic ability to get into the backfield from the end spot.

At tackle, Hoch started all 12 games a year ago as a first-time starter, and he produced nicely, with 36 tackles, 4.5 tackles for loss, 2.0 sacks and three pass break ups. He opens camp looking to hold onto the starting job, but he'll have plenty of competition from senior Marvin Foster (24 career appearances) and redshirt freshman Evan Winston.

Junior Lucas Vincent (25 games played) opens the fall as the favorite to claim the starting nose spot alongside Hoch, but he'll have plenty of competition from redshirt freshman Harold Brantley and junior David Butler.

LINEBACKERS

The linebacker position benefits from the return of senior hard-hitter Andrew Wilson, who has led the Tigers in tackles each of the last two seasons. The other two spots will be filled by first-time starters, as former standouts Zaviar Gooden and Will Ebner have graduated, leaving the opportunity for some talented players to step into their shoes.

It all starts with Wilson here, however, and the mild-mannered middle linebacker packs quite a pop. He had a team-best 79 tackles in 2012, and ranked among the nation's leaders for most of last season, with four forced fumbles. He'll look to be backed up by highly-touted redshirt freshman Michael Scherer, who had hopes of playing last season but eventually was held out to get healthy from a nagging knee injury.

In the strongside spot is senior Donovan Bonner (39 tackles, four forced fumbles, one interception in 11 games), who started twice in 2012 when injuries shuffled the lineup. Bonner's six career forced fumbles is the most of any returning Tiger. He'll be pushed for playing time by sophomore Clarence Green (one game in 2012) and senior program veteran Michael Brennan.

At the weakside linebacker spot, junior Darvin Ruise stands on top of the depth chart entering camp. Ruise made seven tackles in reserve action in 12 games a year ago, and he's got 24 career appearances in all. Hoping to make a push for playing time here are promising youngsters in sophomore Kentrell Brothers (14 tackles in 11 games in 2012) and talented redshirt freshman Donavin Newsom.

SECONDARY

Two starters are back in the Tiger secondary from a year ago, but two additional veterans with starting experience also return, giving Mizzou plenty of experience to go with some promising young talent.

Senior CB E.J. Gaines looks to close his career in big fashion, and the pre-season honors candidate is coming off a strong 2012 season which saw him notch 74 tackles, break up 11 passes, force a pair of fumbles, recover two more and grab one interception. The 2011 1st-Team All-Conference performer will be backed up at one corner spot by sophomore David Johnson junior Xavier Smith (nine games, four tackles in 2012).

At the other corner is senior Randy Ponder, a former walk-on who earned a scholarship after the 2011 season due to his stellar play. Ponder has five career starts (two in 2012) under his belt, and he's proven himself to be a play-maker as well, and he's coming off a 45-tackle season that saw him add two pass break ups and an interception to the ledger. Pushing Ponder for playing time on the depth chart will be speedy redshirt freshman John Gibson and sophomore Ernest Payton (two tackles in three games in 2012), who is a talented athlete waiting in the wings.

The safeties will be anchored by returning starting free safety Braylon Webb. The junior has started 16 games in all, including all 12 a year ago when he registered 64 tackles and recovered a fumble. Webb will be backed up on the depth heading into camp by sophomore Cortland Browning (three games in 2012) and as well as redshirt freshman Chaston Ward.

At the strong safety spot, senior Matt White (five career starts in 38 career games, with 23 tackles and two pass break ups in 2012) will open camp atop the depth chart. Sophomore Ian Simon is second on the depth chart, and he'll be looking to build on a nice initial season that saw him make 14 tackles in 10 games in 2012. Simon stood out in the clutch in Mizzou's epic four-overtime win at Tennessee last fall, when he broke a Volunteer pass on fourth down in the fourth overtime to set up MU's game-winning field goal on the Tigers' ensuing possession. Junior Daniel Easterly (18 career games) and senior Tyler Davis round out the depth here.

KICKERS

One of the more pleasant developments from the 2012 season was the emergence of PK Andrew Baggett into a dependable presence on special teams. As a redshirt freshman, Baggett beat out returning senior Trey Barrow in the fall for the starting job, and he went on to win SEC All-Freshman Team honors for his play.

Baggett ended the year 14-of-20 on field goals, twice connecting from 46 yards out, and he was 33-of-37 on extra points, while also taking over kickoff duties late in the year. He made the kick of the year at Tennessee, when he calmly drilled a pressure-packed 35-yard field goal in the fourth overtime to give Mizzou a thrilling 51-48 win. A workout warrior, Baggett is a strong-legged athlete who will be counted on even more going forward now that he's proven his abilities.

Also competing with Baggett for kicking duties will be redshirt freshman Nick Coffman and junior Blake Owens.

The punting job, handled very well over the last two years by departed veteran Trey Barrow, will be up for grabs. The lead candidates will be juniors Christian Brinser and Blake Owens. Brinser is the only one on the roster with previous game experience, as he had a 47-yard punt in spot duty in 2011.

Camp gets started on August 1st, and the Tigers will hold 24 practices in preparation for the 2013 season opener, to be held Saturday, August 31st against Murray State at Faurot Field. Be sure to stay tuned to www.mutigers.com for updates and further coverage of Mizzou Football camp 2013!

• 2012 1st-Team Freshman All-American (College Football News)
•2012 2nd-Team Freshman All-American (Fox Sports)
•2012 Team Freshman of the Year

2013 OUTLOOK
Returns after an outstanding freshman season that saw him emerge as a big bright spot for the offensive line in what was a challenging year overall ... Acquitted himself in all-star fashion despite being a true freshman, and also displayed impressive leadership on the field and in the lockerroom in addition to his solid play ... Made all 12 starts in 2012 at left guard, but moves to center in 2013, where Tiger coaches feel he's a natural-born leader ... (Last name is pronounced BAY-m).

2012 SEASON
Was a huge gift to the Tiger coaching staff, as he helped solidify an offensive line decimated with injuries all throughout the season, and was a steadying force at left guard, where he ended up starting all 12 games, despite his true freshman status ... Played well enough to merit 1st-Team Freshman All-American status from College Football News, and he was the only Tiger offensive lineman healthy enough to be able to start every game ... Also took home the team's Freshman of the Year award at the year-end banquet.

HIGH SCHOOL
One of the top offensive line prospects in the nation who was rated by ESPN as the #2 guard in the country, as well as the No. 42 overall prospect among all players and as the No. 2 prospect in the state of Missouri … ESPN also rated him as a 1st-Team All-American … Rivals ranked him as the No. 4 overall prospect at any position in the state of Missouri for 2012 … Won the Simone Award as a senior, which goes annually to the top prep player in the Kansas City metro area … Became the first lineman to ever win the prestigious award … Also took home the Buck Buchanan Award for Outstanding Lineman in the Kansas City area as a junior … Was a 1st-Team All-State and All-Conference selection for his last three seasons … Helped lead his team to the 2010 Missouri State Class 5 championship … Also an accomplished all-around athlete who won state championships in both wrestling (Heavyweight division) and track and field (discus) … Is believed to be the first athlete in Missouri history to win state titles in football, wrestling and track in the same school year.

PERSONAL
Parents – Royce & Teresa Boehm … Father was his high school coach … Lists hobbies as all sports … Plans to major in business at Mizzou … Chose Mizzou over virtually every major program in the nation, as he had offers from Arkansas, Auburn, Iowa, Kansas State, Michigan, Michigan State, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Stanford and Wisconsin, among many others … Said he chose Mizzou because of the family feel to the program with the coaches and team, and that visits to Columbia felt like home.

• 2012 Team Underclassman Leadership Award
• 2010 Academic All-Big 12 second team

2013 OUTLOOK
The most experienced member of the Tiger offensive line, with 22 career starts and 35 career outings under his belt, he'll be looked to for leadership and stability on a unit which features only two seniors on its four-deep depth chart ... Has proven himself as a two-year starter, at left tackle solely in 2011 and at right tackle primarily in 2012 ... Had 2012 season cut short after suffering a knee injury at Florida, but after surgery and rehab, is expected to be full go when camp opens in August ... Is listed No. 1 on the depth chart at left tackle.

2012 OUTLOOK
Continued his development in his second year as a starter before missing the final 3-1/2 games due to a knee injury sustained in game #9 at Florida ... Prior to the injury, started all nine games, including six at right tackle, sandwiched around three starts at left tackle as the Tiger line was continually shuffled due to injuries ... Fell victim to the injury bug himself while attempting a tackle on an interception in the second quarter at Florida, and was lost for the remainder of the season ... Despite missing the last three games, was still awarded with the team's Underclassman leadership award handed out at the season-ending banquet ...

2011 SEASON
Started all 13 games at left tackle following the season-ending knee injury to incumbent Elvis Fisher ... Played a major role in Mizzou's potent offense, as the team ranked 9th nationally in rushing offense and 12th nationally in total offense ... Helped the Tiger offense allow just 18 sacks all year, the lowest total since the 2008 season ... Also realized a lineman's dream when he took a swing pass on a gadget play against Kansas and took the lateral for a seven-yard rush.

2010 SEASON
Played in all 13 games in his first collegiate action as a reserve lineman for Mizzou in 2010 ... Spent most of the season second on the depth chart behind veteran guard Austin Wuebbels ... Did a bang-up job in the classroom and was rewarded by being named an Academic All-Big 12 second team performer.

2009 SEASON
Redshirted in his first season at Mizzou, but made favorable enough of an impression in his first fall camp that Tiger coaches were prepared to put him out on the field at any moment during the year.

HIGH SCHOOL

One of the top dual-threat quarterbacks in the country who is looking to bounce back from a challenging junior campaign that saw him beset with multiple injuries that kept him from being the player he's capable of being … He'll enter his final camp poised to battle a talented group of QBs, and he begins camp listed atop the depth chart … He's healthy again and looking forward to returning to form which saw him turn heads as a sophomore, when he amassed an impressive 3,846 yards of total offense and accounted for 36 touchdowns.

2012 SEASON

Had a challenging season, as injuries both to him, as well as all over the offensive line, played a major factor in a drop in production by the Tiger offense … Ended the year with nine appearances, and made eight starts as injuries kept him out of three games altogether … Also was knocked out of two games in which he started – games against Vanderbilt and Syracuse in which he was performing at a very high level before having to leave … Ended the year with 1,562 passing yards and 10 TDs, while his health limited him to just 122 yards rushing and no TDs – a year after he ran for 981 yards and 15 TDs as a sophomore … His last outing of the season was symbolic of the tough year he dealt with, as he had Mizzou in position to defeat Syracuse and attain bowl eligibility, before sustaining a concussion in the fourth quarter which kept him out of the rest of the game and in the season finale at Texas A&M … Prior to the concussion, he was a stellar 17-of-23 passing against Syracuse for 279 yards and 2 TDs with no interceptions … Was solid in the season opener against Southeastern Louisiana, finishing the contest with 13 completions on 21 attempts for 131 yards and a touchdown ... Also picked up 39 yards rushing on six carries ... Went 25-for-41 with 269 yards, two touchdowns and an interception through the air against Georgia ... Carried the ball 20 times in the game, with his longest rush coming for 14 yards ... Early in the third quarter, hit L'Damian Washington for a 69-yard touchdown pass, the longest completion of Franklin's career until an 80-yard score to Dorial Green-Beckham at Central Florida ... Injured his throwing shoulder late in the Georgia game, and was forced to miss the Arizona State game the next week … Returned to complete 11 passes against South Carolina for 92 yards ... Bounced back the next week and went 19-for-30 against UCF with 257 yards and a TD in helping guide the Tigers to a solid road win ... The touchdown strike was an 80-yarder to freshman WR Dorial Green-Beckham, giving Mizzou a 7-3 lead early in the second quarter ... Was 5-of-9 for 56 yards and had one rush for 23 yards and guided Mizzou to a pair of field goals on its opening two drives against Vanderbilt before missing the rest of the game with a left knee injury ... Did not play due to a knee injury against Alabama ... Came off the bench and went 6-of-9 passing for 16 yards in the Tigers' 33-10 win over Kentucky after being listed as doubtful prior to the game due to the knee injury ... Started at Florida and went 24-of-51 for 236 yards but had four interceptions in the loss ... Also ran the ball 11 times for 64 yards ... Matched a career-high with four touchdowns while going 19-of-32 for 226 yards with just one interception in the Tigers' 51-48, four overtime win at Tennessee ... Named one of the SEC's Outstanding Performers of the week for that effort ... Ran for 52 yards as well ... All four of his touchdown passes came in the fourth quarter or overtime in the win, including a 25-yard strike on 4th-and-12 to Dorial Green-Beckham to tie the game with just 47 seconds remaining ... He also had three touchdowns in overtime … The injury bug actually started for him in the spring, when he tore labrum in his throwing shoulder when he was landed on by a defender in a scrum for a loose ball … Missed the remainder of the spring and had surgery to repair the damage, but was cleared to play once fall camp arrived in August.

Won the starting job after a strong spring camp, and in his first year as a starter, just narrowly missed out on a rare 3,000-yard passing/1,000-yard rushing season ... Ended the year with 2,865 yards in the air (21 TDs) while running for 981 yards and a team-best 15 TDs ... His 36 TDs accounted for was the 3rd-most in MU single-season history ... Finished the year strong, in helping lead MU to a 4-game winning streak, and he closed by leading Mizzou to a big 41-24 win over North Carolina in the Independence Bowl, where he threw for 132 yards and 1 TD, while he ran for 142 yards and 2 more scores ... Made his highly-anticipated first career start in the Tigers' season opener against Miami (Ohio) ... finished the game 17-for-26 through the air with 129 yards, one touchdown and one interception ... ran for 72 yards and one score on 14 carries ... at Arizona State, went 26-of-42 passing for 319 yards and two touchdowns with no turnovers ... also ran for 84 yards and one touchdown to give him 403 yards of total offense ... led a furious fourth quarter comeback, as the Tigers trailed 30-16 entering the final period before sending it to overtime, throwing for 104 yards and two TDs in the quarter ... threw for 246 yards with three touchdowns and no interceptions against Western Illinois on 18-of-25 passing in just over two quarters of play ... accounted for 394 yards of total offense against Oklahoma, completing 16-of-33 passes for 291 yards and one touchdown with zero interceptions ... also ran for 103 yards with two touchdowns ... went 19-for 35 for 214 yards and an interception against Kansas State ... also carried the ball 11 times for 46 yards, which included a one-yard score in the fourth quarter to pull the Tigers within a touchdown ... his interception on the first play of the game broke a streak of 108 consecutive pass attempts without an interception ... completed 20 of 28 passes against Iowa State for 289 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions ... ran the ball 11 times for 84 yards and scored twice on the ground while averaging 7.6 yards per carry ... completed 14 passes for 184 yards and a score against Oklahoma State ... ran the ball 15 times for 55 yards and scored a rushing touchdown against the Cowboys ... accounted for four touchdowns in Mizzou's upset over Texas A&M, connecting on two through the air and two on the ground ... completed 16 passes for 198 yards against the Aggies while rushing for 97 yards on 24 carries ... scored the first touchdown of the game on a 20 yard scramble where he broke three tackles and spun off a defender on his way to the end zone ... closed out the first quarter with a 42-yard strike to Eric Waters for a TD ... pulled the Tigers within four on a diving eight-yard score early in the fourth ... hit Marcus Lucas on a perfectly-thrown fade route in overtime to give the Tigers the win ... passed for 325 yards and three touchdowns while completing 33-of-46 passes in the loss to Baylor ... picked up 57 yards on the ground on 16 carries ... all three touchdown passes came in the final seven minutes of the game to pull back within three ... was 18-for-26 with 186 passing yards against Texas, while picking up 33 yards and a score on the ground ... went 13-for-20 with 172 yards and two touchdowns in the win over Texas Tech ... also had a huge game running, netting 152 yards on 20 carries while scoring twice ... had a season-long 31-yard run in the first quarter ... finished the Kansas game with 180 yards passing and two touchdowns on 21 attempts, overcoming a rough first half that saw him throw three interceptions ... added 45 yards rushing on the ground ... his touchdowns were of 25 yards to Wes Kemp and 53 yards to Marcus Lucas.

2010 SEASON

Served as the understudy to eventual NFL 1st-round draft pick Blaine Gabbert, and saw action in 10 games as he was given snaps in key spots of most games ... Was asked to use his size and strength in the run game most often, and he carried 23 times for 116 yards and two TDs, and he also completed 11-of-14 passes for one score ... Completed six-of-eight passes in his first game for 25 yards against McNeese State ... Carried the ball four times for 28 yards and scored a TD on an eight-yard run in the third quarter ... • 2012 Team Cornerback of the Year
•2012 Team KC Player of the Year
• 2011 All-Big 12 first team
• Big 12 Def. Player of the Week (Oct. 31)
• 2011 Team Cornerback of the Year

Looks to establish himself as one of the top cornerbacks in the defensively-stout SEC, and big things are expected of this senior who will be a third-year starter, and who won 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors two years ago in his first year as a starting cornerback ... Has a fearless mentality which serves him well out on the island, and he's a legitimate threat to break off a big return anytime he's got the ball in his hands ... Could factor into the kick/punt return games as well.

2012 SEASON

Had a solid junior campaign that saw him lead the team with 11 pass break ups and finish 4th on the squad with a career-high 74 tackles … Closed the season in big fashion when he had 10 tackles and added two pass break ups and an interception at Texas A&M … The week before against Syracuse saw him break up a season-high three passes while making five tackles against the Orange … Had three tackles in the first game of the season - one solo and two assists - and also recorded a tackle for loss ... Broke up two passes and had three tackles - including one for a loss - in the defeat to Georgia ... Had five tackles against Arizona State and broke up two passes ... Added 44 yards on a punt return against the Sun Devils after taking a handoff on a reverse from Marcus Murphy ... Finished the South Carolina game with seven tackles - third-most on the team (six solo) ... Had a monster game at UCF, leading all Mizzou defenders with 13 tackles ... Of those 13, eight were of the solo variety, while he accumulated two tackles for loss totaling nine yards ... Also forced a fumble in the fourth quarter which helped ice the victory, and earlier broke up a pass ... Posted seven tackles (five solo, two assists) . including two tackles for loss against Vanderbilt ... Posted four tackles (all solo) against Alabama ... Was all over the place in the Tigers' 33-10 homecoming win over Kentucky, posting four tackles (three solo, one assist) with a forced fumble, a fumble recovery for a scoop-and-score of 13 yards with a pass break up and a quarterback hit ... Posted five tackles (all solo), forced a fumble and led Mizzou with two quarterback hits in the Tigers' 14-7 loss at Florida ... Was sensational in the Tigers' 51-48, four overtime win at Tennessee, posing eight tackles, all solos, in the win ... His eight tackles were second-best on the team in the win.

2011 SEASON

Won the starting job in fall camp and turned in an outstanding season, as he won 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors ... Set an MU record, and ranked 4th in the NCAA with his 18 passes defended, while he also ranked 5th on the team with 69 tackles ... Recorded five tackles against Miami (Ohio), three solo and two assisted, in the first start of his career ... kept the Redhawks off the scoreboard late in the first half by intercepting a Zac Dysert pass in the end zone after Miami had driven 67 yards down inside the MU 15-yard-line ... recorded three tackles - one solo - against Western Illinois ... in just the second punt return of his career, returned a late fourth quarter kick 44 yards for Mizzou's final score of the night ... recorded five solo tackles and picked off a Landry Jones pass off a deflection in Mizzou's loss at No. 1 Oklahoma .. had the second most tackles on the team against Kansas State with a total of eight ... of those eight tackles, seven were solo, while he also registered 2.5 TFL ... had a monster game against Iowa State, finishing the game with nine tackles, the second most on the team ... also forced his first fumble of the season and broke up a pass against the Cyclones ... intercepted Oklahoma State's Brandon Weeden in the end zone and returned it 54 yards into Cowboy territory for his second pick of the year ... also recorded six tackles and broke up three passes on the day ... posted career-bests in tackles (10) and pass breakups (four) against Texas A&M, which helped him earn Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week honors ... posted a seven tackle day at Baylor while also adding another pass breakup ... finished the Texas game with six tackles and two pass breakups ... recorded a pair of tackles and two more pass breakups against Texas Tech, giving him 16 for the season which broke previous MU single season record of 15 (set in 2002 by Michael Harden) ... posted three tackles against Kansas, including an assisted tackle for loss.

2010 SEASON

Earned a letter as a true freshman, played in all 13 games and recorded 26 tackles ... Made one tackle against Illinois, in his first collegiate appearance ... Had three stops against McNeese State ... Added three tackles in both the Miami (Ohio) game Colorado game ... Best game of the year came at Texas Tech, as he made eight tackles (all solo stops) ... Recorded two tackles against Kansas and also broke up a pass in MU's domination of its border rival.

HIGH SCHOOL

- 2012 Spring Team Most Improved TE
- 2011 Academic All-Big 12 second team

2013 OUTLOOK
Veteran tight end who can contribute in either the passing game or in the running attack due to his blocking abilities … Opens camp second on the depth chart, where he'll look to battle for the starting job.

2012 SEASON
Caught four passes for 27 yards in 12 games in his first year as the primary tight end for the Tigers … Made seven starts in all, and was used extensively as a blocking back as well … Had two receptions for 9 yards in the season opener against Southeastern Louisiana and later had a 17-yard reception at Central Florida … Made one catch for a yard against Alabama, and late in the game had to be carted off the field as a precaution for a neck injury he sustained when landing after a hit … He recovered quickly from the blow, though, and the bruised neck didn't force him to miss any action … Also played on various special teams units, and he was credited with a 17-yard tackle for loss when he got free to stop Alabama punter Cody Mandell after he bobbled the snap.

2011 SEASON
Saw action in 11 games in his sophomore season, playing mostly on special teams, but also getting more involved on the offense ... Had two catches on the season, one of which was a TD ... Caught his first career TD, a 42-yard strike from James Franklin against Texas A&M ... Caught one pass for four yards against Western Illinois ... Blocked a punt against Texas.

2010 SEASON
Enrolled in January after graduating from high school early, and used that added experience from spring camp to his advantage, as he earned playing time as a true freshman ... Played in all 13 games, primarily on special teams, and was a valuable contributor, as he blocked one kick (a punt versus Colorado that set up a Tiger score) and made a tackle at Iowa State.

HIGH SCHOOL
Was a sleeper in the Tigers' stellar 2010 recruiting class, someone who went under the radar due to his late entry into football, as he spent most of his youth focusing on the sport of basketball ... Ranked by Rivals.com as the nation's No. 27 tight end prep prospect, while ESPN.com put him at No. 28 nationally at the same position ... Rated by Scout.com as the nation's No. 45 tight end prospect ... As a senior in 2009, caught 23 passes for 361 yards and three touchdowns, after catching 26 passes for 305 yards and two touchdowns during his junior season ... Was also an all-district performer for his school's basketball team ... High school coach - Travis Pride.

MIZZOU®

COACHING STAFF

Gary Pinkel

Head Coach
13th Year at Mizzou
Akron, Ohio
Kent State, 1973

In 12 years at the University of Missouri, Gary Pinkel has meticulously built a previously downtrodden program into one of the most successful in the nation. With 48 wins in a recent five-season span (ranking as 9th-most in the nation from 2007-11), three division titles (2007, 08, 10), and a school-record seven-consecutive bowl game appearances (2005-11), Pinkel's vision for success has come to fruition, and is pointed toward bright things to come.

Pinkel's leadership played a crucial role in the University of Missouri being in position to join the vaunted Southeastern Conference in November of 2011.

His vision for the future was stamped for approval in June of 2012, when the Missouri Board of Curators okayed a $200-million construction project master plan – the majority of which will go to improving and expanding football facilities.

Mizzou's first year in the football-dominant SEC certainly didn't go as planned in 2012, as the Tigers faced what was ranked as the nation's toughest schedule (Sagarin). Injuries which decimated the usually-potent Tiger offense took their toll and factored heavily into MU's 5-7 season.

Determined to rebound in 2013, Pinkel enters his 13th year at Mizzou with 90 wins, and needs just four more to pass the legendary Dan Devine for second on the MU career wins chart. He's also within reach of Mizzou's record-holder, Don Faurot, who won 101 games in 19 seasons (1935-42, 1946-56).

Pinkel has a strong track-record of success to point to.

Mizzou played in a school-record seventh-straight bowl game in 2011, and ended with an 8-5 record after a dominating 41-24 win over North Carolina in the Independence Bowl. The final record was impressive considering it came in a year in which the Tigers were challenged with key injuries while facing a schedule that was ranked as the seventh-toughest in the nation (Sagarin). Pinkel led his team to wins over three bowl teams in the regular season (Texas, Texas A&M, Iowa State), while all five of MU's losses came at the hands of bowl-bound opponents.

A testament to the consistency that Pinkel and his staff have developed at Mizzou is the fact that MU was one of only six schools in BCS-AQ conferences to have posted at least eight wins each season from 2006-11. The others in that very select group included: LSU, Oklahoma, USC, Virginia Tech and West Virginia.

In 2010, Mizzou posted its third 10-win season in four years under Pinkel, as MU went 10-3 overall, including a 6-2 mark in Big 12 Conference play that earned them a spot atop the North Division rankings for the third time since 2007. Included among those 10 wins was a watershed moment for the program, and for Tiger Nation overall – a 36-27 win over top-ranked Oklahoma on Homecoming, which marked the first-ever win by Mizzou over a #1-ranked team.

A sign of growing respect for the work that Pinkel and his staff has done to build the program came along with that win over Oklahoma. That week, Mizzou was the focal point of the entire college football universe, as ESPN sent its wildly popular traveling show, "ESPN GameDay," to the MU campus. A record crowd of an estimated 18,000 Tiger fans packed the picturesque Francis Quadrangle for the Saturday morning show, and made everyone associated with the school glow with pride. A national audience watched the GameDay program, and then the nation promptly watched the Tigers pull away in the fourth quarter against the Sooners to move to 7-0 on a season for only the third time in school history.

Pinkel ranks third on Mizzou's all-time coaching wins list with his 90-61 record. He is in a select group of MU coaches that includes College Football Hall of Famers Don Faurot and Dan Devine, as well as Warren Poweres, as the only coaches to have an MU record above .500 dating back to 1935.

Pinkel has guided Mizzou to eight bowl games, surpassing the previous MU record of six he previously held along with Dan Devine. With wins in the 2008 AT&T Cotton Bowl (38-7 over Arkansas) and in the 2008 Valero Alamo Bowl (30-23 over Northwestern), Pinkel became the first coach to lead the Tigers to bowl victories in consecutive seasons since Powers did the trick in 1981 and 1982.

Over the past 10 seasons, Pinkel has led Missouri to a 81-47 record (63.3%) and to bowl games in 2003, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011. Dating back to the 2005 Independence Bowl, Pinkel has won 62 of his last 93 games overall (66.7%). He is the first coach in school history to earn seven straight bowl berths.

His success has led to an increased commitment to the Tiger Football program from the University, as Pinkel was awarded with a two-year contract extension in April of 2011 that will keep him on the Tiger sidelines through the 2017 season. With eight winning seasons, Pinkel has directed MU to eight of the 10 winning campaigns the school has had overall since the 1983 season.

Pinkel's 12-year record at Mizzou stands at 90-61, and in his 22 years overall as a head coach, his teams have a 163-98-3 overall mark (62.3%).

With a school-record 12 wins in 2007 and 10 more in 2008, MU's two-year win total of 22 was third-most in the nation during that stretch, trailing only USC (23) and Oklahoma (23). The back-to-back 10-win seasons marked the first such occurrence in Mizzou history, and Pinkel has now directed three of the four double-digit win seasons in school annals.

In 2007, Pinkel guided Mizzou to arguably the greatest season in school history. Among the myriad achievements that year included a school-record 12 wins, claiming MU's first New Year's Day bowl victory since 1966, winning the program's first-ever Big 12 North Division crown, and earning a No. 1 Associated Press national ranking for the first time since 1960 and coming up one win shy of playing for the national championship.

To simply list the highlights surrounding Pinkel's renaissance in Columbia would not do his body of work justice. It has all been the culmination of hard work and determination that began after his hiring on Nov. 30, 2000.

While Pinkel himself would say that it is still a work in progress, his program's numerous accomplishments can be highlighted, which helps to tell this story of football success in Mid-Missouri.

In achieving the program's first No. 1 national ranking since 1960, Missouri raced to a 5-0 start in 2007, including wins over a Rose Bowl bound Illinois team and perennial nemesis Nebraska. The Tigers averaged nearly 42 points per game in those five wins and only a late flurry of points by the Fighting Illini kept any of those games in doubt.

While eventual Big 12 Champion Oklahoma was the lone stumbling block for Pinkel's squad in 2007, the Tigers set numerous school records, including school marks for wins (12), points per game (39.9), total points (558) and total offense (6,864 yards). Most of the offensive records were broken again one year later, as the Tigers' potent spread attack upped those marks to 42.2 points per game, 591 total points in 2008.

For his outstanding achievements both on and off the field in 2007, Pinkel was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards, including the Robinson, Bryant and Munger awards. He also was named the National Coach of the Year by FieldTurf in 2007.

In winning a school-record 12 games in 2007, Mizzou clearly caught the attention of the national football community, as the Tigers began the season unranked but quickly darted up the charts with wins over bowl teams such as Illinois, Texas Tech and Colorado. And after the Tigers defeated arch rival and 2nd-ranked Kansas on Nov. 24th, Mizzou stood atop the college football world, ranked number one for the first and only time since 1960. Mizzou was featured on every college football television show after, and also graced the covers of virtually every prominent national sporting publication, including Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News and USA Today.

While the 2007 Tigers cashed in on the steady growth of the program over the previous six seasons, the Tigers also enjoyed an exciting 2006 campaign that saw them win eight regular-season games for just the 10th time in school history, and Missouri's appearance in the Brut Sun Bowl marked MU's third bowl game in four seasons - the first time in 25 years that Mizzou had reached three bowls in four years.

Pinkel and his program successfully built on the momentum created from a scintillating 38-31 win over South Carolina in the 2005 Independence Bowl that saw his Tigers overcome a 21-point deficit. The thrilling win marked the largest come-from-behind win in school history, and it gave Mizzou only its second bowl win in the previous 24 years.

After taking over a program that had fallen on hard times in 2001, Pinkel had increased success in each of his first three seasons, improving from four wins in 2001 to five wins in 2002, to the 2003 squad which went 8-5 and made the school's third bowl appearance since 1983.

Long considered a "sleeping giant" of a program, Mizzou had a breakthrough 2003 season under Pinkel's guidance.

The list of accomplishments turned in by the 2003 team was impressive:

The eight regular-season wins marked the first time since 1980 - and only the 4th time since 1960 - that MU had amassed that many wins in the regular season. The team became only the 9th in MU's history to accomplish the feat...

MU went a perfect 6-0 at Faurot Field that season, with the win total marking a school record for one season at home. Mizzou had never won more than five games at Faurot, which opened as Memorial Stadium in 1926. It also marked MU's first unblemished home season since the 1974 team went 5-0...

Mizzou's 41-24 win over #10 Nebraska on Oct. 11th was one for the history books, as it broke a 24-game losing streak to the Huskers for MU, making Pinkel the first Tiger coach to beat Nebraska since Warren Powers in 1978...

The Nebraska win also marked MU's first win over a top-10 opponent since 1981, breaking a string of 45 straight losses to top-10 foes for the school...

The 31st head coach in the program's history, Pinkel was hired on Nov. 30, 2000, and began immediately to prove to his colleagues, alumni, fans and student-athletes that Tiger Football could be a national player.

After a rebuilding year in 2001, Pinkel had Mizzou much improved in his 2nd campaign -- and playing for bowl eligibility entering the Tigers' final game of the season. Tough losses to 3rd-ranked Oklahoma (on a late fourth quarter fake field goal), to 18th-ranked Colorado (in overtime) and a last-second loss at 22nd-ranked Iowa State were all that kept Mizzou out of a bowl game.

Pinkel opened the 2002 campaign by leading MU to one of the program's most impressive season-opening wins in recent history when Mizzou dismantled Illinois -- the defending Big Ten Conference champions and a 2001 BCS Bowl team -- 33-20 in St. Louis, Mo. He later defeated Mizzou's heated rival, the Kansas Jayhawks, as MU downed Kansas 36-12 to give him a 2-0 record vs. KU -- making him only the third coach in school history to win his first two encounters against Kansas.

Pinkel came to Missouri after spending 10 very successful years as head coach at Toledo, where he amassed an impressive 73-37-3 record (65.9%).

The school's alltime winningest coach, Pinkel's last six teams there went a combined 50-18-1 overall. Three of those teams advanced to play in the post-season, capturing one Mid-American Conference championship and three MAC West Division titles. Three of his last five teams at Toledo were ranked in the nation's top 25. His 1995 squad went 11-0-1, and was one of just two schools (national champ Nebraska was the other) to finish the season without a loss.

For his accomplishments at Toledo, Pinkel was inducted into the school's athletic hall of fame in February of 2009.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Pinkel learned the trade from one of the alltime great coaches, the legendary Don James. For 12 years as an assistant under James at Washington (1979-90), Pinkel helped guide the Huskies to a combined record of 104-37-2 (73.4%) and three Pac-10 Conference titles. He served as UW's offensive coordinator for seven seasons (1984-90), and helped mold one of the nation's most potent offensive attacks.

Pinkel played under James at Kent State University, where he was an all-conference and honorable mention All-American tight end. He graduated in 1973.

Pinkel graduated from Kenmore High School in Akron, Ohio, and received his bachelor of science degree in education from Kent in 1973. He did post-graduate studies at Kent and Bowling Green, and in 1997 was inducted into the Kent Athletic Hall of Fame. He was born April 27, 1952.

Dave Steckel

Associate Head Coach/Defensive Coord./Linebackers
13th Year at Mizzou
Fullerton, Pa.
Kutztown, 1982

Dave Steckel will enter his 13th season at Missouri as the Tigers' linebacker coach, and the 2012 campaign will be his fourth with the added duties of defensive coordinator – a position he was awarded with by Head Coach Gary Pinkel in February of 2009 following the departure of former coordinator Matt Eberflus to the NFL's Cleveland Browns. In 2011 he also was awarded with the title of associate head coach in the fall.

Mizzou's defense was a bright spot in the Tigers' first year in the Southeastern Conference. The 2012 season saw MU hold six opponents to 20 points or less on the year, and an aggressive, hard-hittling style of play had the Tiger defense ranked 1st in the nation with 21 forced fumbles (1.75 per game).

Steckel's linebackers battled through injuries in 2012, but they still played a lead role in MU's defensive success. Junior Andrew Wilson led the team (for the 2nd-straight year) with 79 tackles, and his four forced fumbles (tied with fellow LB Donovan Bonner) ranked as 8th-most in the NCAA. Senior Will Ebner closed out his Tiger career with 75 tackles, to rank 3rd on the squad. Senior Zaviar Gooden missed two games due to injuries, but still managed to notch 61 tackles (7th on the team), and earned an invite to play in the prestigious Under Armour Senior Bowl this January.

The Tiger defense played a big role in Mizzou's overall success in 2011, as it ranked 4th in the offense-happy Big 12 Conference in total defense, allowing 380.00 yards per game. The Tiger defense came up big in wins over Texas (247 yards allowed) and Kansas (137), while closing the season in impressive fashion against North Carolina in the Independence Bowl. In MU's 41-24 bowl win, the Tiger defense shackled the Tar Heels and held them to just 36 yards rushing – some 120 yards below their average.

In 2010, Steckel's defense emerged into one of the most improved in the nation last season. Mizzou led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked 6th in the nation, in scoring defense, allowing only 16.08 points per game in the high-scoring Big 12.

Steckel's linebacking corps was decimated by injuries throughout the 2010 season, but that didn't stop his troops from turning in big performances each week. Senior Andrew Gachkar developed into one of the top linebackers in the league, and he was named a 1st-Team All-Big 12 performer, giving Steckel a 1st-Team All-Big 12 linebacker for the fifth-straight year (Sean Weatherspoon – 2007, 2008, 2009). Gachkar ranked second on the team with 84 tackles, just one shy of fellow linebacker Zaviar Gooden, a sophomore who was named honorable-mention All-Big 12 for leading MU with 85 stops in his first year as a starter.

Steckel has consistently produced results with his linebacking corps at Mizzou. He is also a highly-successful recruiter, primarily in the state of Texas. A passionate and enthusiastic teacher of the game of football, Steckel has mentored his linebackers over the years with positive results.

Under Steckel, the Missouri defense followed the fire of its new coordinator in 2009 with an attacking style of play. The Tiger rush defense excelled, thanks to his linebackers and a stout defensive line, and ended the season ranked 26th in the NCAA against the run (118.62 avg.) – that figure is the lowest rushing average allowed in a season by a Tiger defense since the 1983 squad ranked 5th nationally with an average of 97.70 per game.

Sean Weatherspoon concluded his stellar Tiger career by winning 2nd-Team All-American honors, as well as being named a 1st-Team All-Big 12 performer for the third straight year – making him the first Tiger in the Big 12 era to achieve 1st-Team all-league status three times. Weatherspoon ended third on MU's career tackles chart, and was eventually a first-round selection by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2010 NFL Draft (number 19 overall selection). Sophomore Will Ebner also emerged as a steady force in the middle of the field, as he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors for his play, which featured 78 tackles to rank him 3rd on the squad in 2009.

Steckel's group helped lead the Tiger defense in 2008, with junior Sean Weatherspoon commanding the lion's share of attention. "Spoon" turned in a very impressive season that saw him earn 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim, as well as 3rd-Team All-American honors, based on his 155 tackles. He was also named a finalist for the prestigious Butkus Award, and he repeated in 2009 as a finalist for the award again.

Weatherspoon was joined in the 100-tackle club in 2008 by senior Brock Christopher, who totaled a career-high 105 stops in his final season in a Tiger uniform. Christopher won honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors for his play for a second straight year in 2008.

Steckel returned to Gary Pinkel's coaching staff in 2001 after spending five seasons as the linebacker and defensive line coach at Rutgers University.

Steckel helped mold James Kinney into a prolific tackler, as he ended his Tiger career by breaking the MU career tackles record (434) during his senior season of 2004. Kinney led MU in stops in 2004, with 112, making him the first player in school history to record three consecutive seasons of 100 or more tackles. He earned 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors for his efforts, and signed a free-agent deal with the Jacksonville Jaguars after the 2005 NFL Draft.

In his 12 seasons at Mizzou, Steckel has had at least one of his linebackers earn all-league recognition in all but one year, including two each in the 2001, 2002, 2003, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011 seasons.

The 2006 season featured stellar play from senior standouts Marcus Bacon and Dedrick Harrington. Bacon earned 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim for his play that featured a team-best 112 tackles. He became MU's first linebacker to win the Big 12 defensive player of the week award since 1997, when he won the award for his play in week two against Ole Miss. Harrington had his best season as a Tiger, as he totaled a career-high 100 stops.

One of MU's top recruiters, Steckel has helped land numerous all-stars for Mizzou, primarily out of the state of Texas. He was responsible for the successful recruitment of Southlake Carroll High School quarterback Chase Daniel, who was named the EA Sports National High School Player of the Year. Daniel lettered as a true freshman at MU in 2005 and just two years later was a Heisman Trophy finalist, finishing fourth in the 2007 Heisman voting. Steckel was able to attend the prestigious ceremony in New York City that December.

Two of Steckel's stars were honored for their play in 2003, as Kinney was named 2nd-Team All-Big 12 by the Associated Press, while Barnes earned Honorable Mention acclaim by both league coaches and media. Barnes impressed enough people that he eventually signed a free agent contract following the 2004 NFL Draft with the Baltimore Ravens, and later played for the Washington Redskins.

At Rutgers, Steckel coached two all-conference defensive linemen from 1996-99, both of whom went on to play in the NFL. In 2000, Steckel moved to coach the linebackers. He served as one of Rutgers' chief recruiters, signing 14 players in his first three seasons.

Before Rutgers, Steckel coached the defensive line for Pinkel at Toledo from 1992-95. He was the defensive line coach during the 1995 undefeated season that went on to win the Las Vegas Bowl. Steckel helped coach a defensive unit that ranked No. 1 in the Mid-American Conference and 12th nationally. One of those players, Dan Williams, was the 11th overall selection in the 1993 NFL Draft.

Steckel served in the United States Marine Corps from 1975-78. He then went on to graduate from Kutztown State College and earned a master's from Miami (Ohio) in 1982.

He is married to the former Mary Beth Thomas of Floyd's Knob, Ind. They have one beautiful daughter named Amanda.

Josh Henson

Offensive Coordinator/Co-Offensive Line
Fifth Year at Mizzou
Tuttle, Okla.
Oklahoma State, 1998

Josh Henson joined the University of Missouri football coaching staff in February of 2009 as the first new hire to join Gary Pinkel's staff since he came to Mizzou in 2001. Henson came aboard at the time to serve as co-offensive line coach, and after four seasons in that role, he was promoted this off-season to offensive coordinator this past December.

Henson, who will continue as co-offensive line coach, has had six of his linemen at Mizzou earn all-star honors nine times in his tenure, including the most recent being true freshman guard Evan Boehm, who was named a 1st-Team Freshman All-American by College Football News in 2012.

A former standout offensive lineman at Oklahoma State, Henson spent four years as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at Louisiana State University, where he developed the reputation as being a tremendous on-field teacher of the game, while also leading the charge for LSU's recruiting classes which ranked among the top 10 in the nation four times - including a 2009 class which ranked as No. 2 in the nation according to Rivals.com.

Henson has provided a measurable impact for the Tiger football program, both on and off the field. The Tiger offensive line – despite the pre-season loss of All-Big 12 left tackle Elvis Fisher to a season-ending injury – developed into a stout unit that paved the way for a Big 12 team rushing title in 2011. The Tigers ranked 9th nationally, and led the Big 12 in rushing (244.00 avg.) and also ranked 12th nationally in total offense (475.54 avg.), despite featuring a first-year starter at quarterback.

In 2009, he helped coach a trio of Tiger offensive linemen – senior Kurtis Gregory (2nd-Team), and sophomores Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Dan Hoch (Hon. Men.) to All-Big 12 honors. The offensive line helped protect first-year starting quarterback Blaine Gabbert well enough so that MU ranked 14th in the nation in passing, while allowing only 20 sacks in 13 games and 467 passing attempts.

It was more of the same in 2010, as the offensive line was a key element to Mizzou's 10-win season (only the fourth double-digit win season in school history), as four of Henson's five starters won some level of all-conference honors. Senior center Tim Barnes established himself as one of the top centers in the nation, and he took home 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors for his outstanding play. Also earning all-conference acclaim were juniors Dan Hoch (2nd-Team), Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Austin Wuebbels (Hon. Men.), .

In the recruiting battles, Henson quickly helped MU establish ties to areas in which it had little success in recent years, and his efforts helped the Tiger 2010 class to a No. 21 national ranking by Rivals.com – marking the highest ranking ever for an MU recruiting class.

Prior to Mizzou, Henson spent 10 years as a player and coach at Oklahoma State, prior to his successful stint as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at LSU. He replaced former Tiger coach Dave Christensen, who was the first assistant to leave Pinkel's staff since coming to MU in 2001. Christensen was named the head coach at Wyoming in December of 2008.

In 2007, Henson's coaching efforts helped LSU sophomore tight end Richard Dickson put together one of the most productive seasons at the position in school history. Dickson turned in the third-highest single-season reception total by a Tiger tight end in school history, and he capped the 2007 season by catching a pair of touchdown passes in LSU's 38-24 win over Ohio State in the 2008 BCS National Championship Game.

The Tiger tight ends played a key role as LSU's offense set a total of 10 school records in 2007, including points in a season and total yards in a season. Following the 2007 season, LSU tight end Keith Zinger was selected in the seventh round of the NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

As LSU's recruiting coordinator, Henson's abilities made an immediate impact on the Tiger roster as LSU had the nation's No. 2-ranked signing class in 2007 after a consensus top 6 national rating in 2006. For his efforts, Henson was ranked as one of college football's top 25 recruiters in 2006 and 2007 by Rivals.com.

At Oklahoma State, Henson was instrumental in the development of Billy Bajema, who was a three-year starter for the Cowboys. As a senior in 2004, Bajema was one of the top tight ends in the country, earning first-team All-Big 12 honors. Bajema was picked in the seventh round of the 2004 NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers.

Henson also played a vital role in OSU's offensive development as the Cowboys ranked among the top 15 scoring teams in the nation for three consecutive years. The Cowboys averaged over 34 points per game from 2002-04, which included 35.9 points per game in 2003 and 34.5 points a game in 2004.

As Oklahoma State's recruiting coordinator, Henson played a key role in OSU's 2003 signing class being ranked No. 15 in the nation by Rivals.com. A year earlier, Rivals.com rated the Cowboy class as the 26th-best in the country.

As a player, Henson was a four-year letterwinner with 40 career starts for Oklahoma State from 1993-97. He was a starter on the offensive line as well as team captain for Oklahoma State's 8-4 team in 1997, a squad that played in the Alamo Bowl against Purdue. He was a second-team All-Big 12 selection as a senior, in addition to being an honorable mention All-Big 12 pick as a junior. Off the field, Henson was named the recipient of the L.L. Boger Award as a senior, an honor that recognizes a student-athlete's achievement both on the field and in the classroom.

Henson graduated from Oklahoma State with a bachelor's degree in secondary education in 1998. Upon graduation, he went straight into coaching, serving as a high school football coach in Kingfisher, Okla. In one season at Kingfisher, he helped guide the Yellowjackets to the state semifinals.

Henson returned to Oklahoma State as a graduate assistant in July of 1999, spending one year with the Cowboy offensive line before taking a full-time position with OSU as tight ends coach in 2001.

Henson is a native of Tuttle, Okla. He and his wife Shauna have a 9-year old son, Will, and a 5-year old daughter, Kate. Henson lists golf, fishing and hunting as his hobbies in his spare time.

Andy Hill

Associate Head Coach/Quarterbacks
18th Year at Mizzou
Trenton, Mo.
Missouri, 1985

Andy Hill has coached 12 seasons under Gary Pinkel and 17 seasons overall at the University of Missouri, making him the longest tenured coach on the Tiger football staff. In fact, only three other assistant coaches in MU football history have enjoyed longer tenures at Mizzou: Clay Cooper (29 seasons), Chauncey Simpson (21) and John Kadlec (19).

The 2013 season will mark an exciting shift in duties for Hill, as the Mizzou grad will take over quarterback responsibilities, after working with Tiger receivers since he joined the staff in 1996. He was also awarded in December with a promotion to Associate Head Coach.

Regarded as one of the top recruiters in the country, Hill also has a long-standing track record of coaching success at Mizzou, as he's helped develop three 1st-Team All-Americans in the past five seasons -- WR Jeremy Maclin, WR Danario Alexander and TE Michael Egnew.

Seven of Hill's receivers caught double-digit passes in 2012, and they were led by junior wideout Marcus Lucas, who had a team-high 46 catches for 509 yards, while adding three touchdowns. Freshman WR Dorial Green-Beckham showed flashes of why he was considered one of the top recruits in the entire nation in 2012, as he ended with 28 receptions for 395 yards and a team-best five TDs.

Over the past few seasons, Hill coached several of the most prolific pass catchers in the nation, as well as in Mizzou history. In 2010, junior TE Michael Egnew emerged as the nation's most productive receiving tight end, as he won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors, and was a Mackey Award finalist, for a year that saw him catch 90 passes for 762 yards and five touchdowns. That was an astounding progression for Egnew, who caught a combined seven passes in his first two years as a Tiger. Another great story in 2010 was the development of sophomore WR T.J. Moe into one of the nation's most prolific receivers as well. Moe burst onto the scene by catching 92 passes for 1,045 yards and six touchdowns, a year after he caught two passes as a true freshman in 2009. Moe's play won him 2nd-Team All-Big 12 honors. Hill, who also works with Tiger punters, helped develop first-year player and senior punter Matt Grabner into an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer after averaging 42.6 yards per punt.

Junior Punter Trey Barrow took over duties for the first time in 2011, and ranked 9th nationally with his MU single-season record punting average of 44.82 yards per kick. Following a senior season that saw him average 43.0 yards per punt in 2012, Barrow ended his Tiger career as the school record-holder for punting average (43.9 yds.).

Danario Alexander's 2009 season saw him lead the NCAA in receiving (137.0 yards per game), as he shattered school records for receptions (113), receiving yards (1,781) and receiving touchdowns (14). Alexander twice won Big 12 Offensive Player of the Week honors during his incredible 2009 season – making him the first receiver in the talent-rich tradition of the Big 12 Conference to win the honor twice in the same season. Alexander won 1st-Team All-American honors for his efforts in 2009, and he ended his career holding the MU career record for receiving yards (2,778).

The 2009 season saw senior punter Jake Harry IV turn in an outstanding season which included honorable mention All-Big 12 honors. Harry ranked 29th nationally in punting average (42.77), and he helped Mizzou rank 4th in the country in team net punting (40.48) – the highest MU has ever finished in the national standings in the category.

The 2008 season saw Hill work to develop sophomore Jeremy Maclin into arguably the most dynamic player in the nation. Maclin set an MU single-season record with 102 catches, 1,260 yards and 13 touchdowns receiving, and he also led the NCAA in all-purpose yardage, with his per-game average of 202.4 yards. The game-changer won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors for his play, as well as being named a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award, given annually to the nation's top receiver. Maclin chose to bypass his final two years of eligibility at Mizzou, and was taken with the 19th overall selection in the 2009 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Hill's group produced in record numbers during the Tigers' 10-4 season in 2008. As a team, Mizzou's passing attack shattered school records for receptions (404), receiving yards (4,625) and receiving touchdowns (41). Mizzou's passing attack ranked 4th in the NCAA in 2008, with a per-game average of 330.36 yards. In addition to Maclin's many exploits, another pupil of Hill's had a strong close to his Tiger career. Former walk-on Tommy Saunders developed into one of the Big 12's most underrated receiving threats, as he caught 72 passes for 833 yards and seven scores in 2008, and he ended his career ranked among MU's top-10 in both receptions and yardage.

Thanks in no small part to Hill's work with the receivers, Mizzou's offense set myriad records in 2007, as the passing attack ranked 9th in the NCAA, averaging 314.07 yards per game. Two of his pupils, senior Will Franklin and freshman Jeremy Maclin, earned all-league honors for their outstanding play in 2007, including Maclin, who was a consensus 1st-Team All-American for his exploits as both a receiver and return man, in addition to being named 1st-Team All-Big 12 and Big 12 Offensive Freshman of the Year. Franklin, who was selected in the fourth round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs, won honorable mention All-Big 12 honors, and ended his stellar Tiger career ranked in the school's top 10 for receptions and yards.

Under Hill's tutelage in 2006, the Tiger receiving corps was instrumental in helping Mizzou develop into a passing attack that ranked 10th in the country, averaging 276.15 yards per game. Four Tiger wideouts had 25 or more catches, including Franklin (48), Perry (37), Brad Ekwerekwu (32) and Tommy Saunders (25). Franklin earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status for his breakout year, which included 829 yards and six touchdowns in 11 games, with the yardage total ranking as the seventh-most in MU single-season history. Perry, a true freshman, developed quicker than anticipated, as Hill coached him to honorable mention freshman All-American honors.

Hill also doubles as a highly-successful recruiter, primarily in the Kansas City and mid-Missouri areas, as he's been responsible for landing such big names over the years as Martin Rucker, 2008 Mackey Award Winner Chase Coffman, and Tony Temple, among numerous others. He was named by Rivals.com as one of the top-10 recruiters in the Big 12 Conference for 2007.

Hill helped develop Gage into one of the top receivers in the Big 12 Conference and one of the premier wide outs in the country. After converting from quarterback in the spring of 2000, Gage caught 200 passes for 2,704 yards and 18 touchdowns in three seasons – all MU career receiving records. Gage left after 2002 holding virtually every game, season and career receiving mark on the Mizzou books, and made an impact professionally, where he was the Tennessee Titans' leading receiver in 2007 and 2008.

Five of Hill's receivers are among 12 Tigers all-time to accumulate over 160 receiving yards in a single-game, with Gage holding the school record of 236 yards (accomplished twice). Missouri has had 16 different receivers go over 100 yards in a single game during Hill's tenure.

Previous to Missouri, Hill was the head football coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Junior College. Hutchinson went 18-6 under Hill, including a 10-2 record in 1995 when it won its first Conference title since 1969 and ranked ninth in the final NJCAA national poll. He was named the conference Coach of the Year. Hill was the offensive coordinator at Hutchinson in 1992 and 1993 after serving as a graduate assistant at SMU in the spring of 1992.

Hill is a Mizzou grad who walked on the Tiger football team in 1980 and eventually earned a scholarship. He lettered in 1980, '81, '83 and '84 and played on Missouri teams that earned trips to the Liberty, Tangerine and Holiday Bowls. In his career, Hill caught 51 passes for 946 yards and scored seven touchdowns. As a senior, he caught 25 passes for 445 yards and three scores. Following his playing days at Missouri, he spent time in the training camps of the Kansas City Chiefs and Calgary Stampeders in 1985 and '86.

Andy and his wife Sarah are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Ryan, and son Andrew. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from MU in 1985.

Cornell Ford

Cornerbacks
13th Year at Mizzou
Gary, Ind.
Toledo, 1991

Cornell Ford is in his 20th season as a valuable member of Coach Gary Pinkel's staff, including his 13th at Mizzou working with the Tiger secondary. Beginning with the 2004 season, Ford has coached the Tiger cornerbacks, after he focused on MU's outside safeties his first three years. Ford is also the Tigers' chief recruiter in St. Louis, where he has signed some of the very best players in the state.

He'll have the benefit in 2013 of working with one of the top cornerbacks in the Southeastern Conference in senior E.J. Gaines. Gaines had a solid junior season, when he made 74 tackles, and led the Tigers with 11 pass breakups.

In 2011, Ford oversaw the development of Gaines into one of the nation's top young cover men. Gaines set a Mizzou record with 16 pass break ups in his first year as a starter, and tied for 5th nationally with 18 passes defended overall (including 2 interceptions).

Both of Ford's starting cornerbacks earned All-Big 12 status for three straight seasons (2008-10), including Carl Gettis and Kevin Rutland both in 2009 and 2010. The Tiger pass defense was a large reason for Mizzou's much-improved play in 2010, as MU led the Big 12 and ranked 6th nationally in scoring defense, allowing just 16.08 points per game. The Tigers also ranked 11th nationally in pass efficiency defense, with an opponent passer rating of 108.45.

Rutland's development earned him an invitation to the 2011 NFL Combine, and while he went undrafted, he was signed immediately by Jacksonville, and in the 2011 season made his first career NFL start for the Jaguars.

In 2009, Gettis and Rutland were named honorable mention all-league by league coaches for their play. Gettis ranked 6th on the team in 2009 with 61 tackles, and led the team with 5 pass break ups, to go with having a hand in 4 turnovers in his third year as a starter. Rutland, in his first year as a starter, developed into MU's top corner, as he won honorable-mention all-league status and was named the team's cornerback of the year for his season, which included 47 tackles and a team-high 2 interceptions.

Both of Ford's starting cornerbacks earned All-Big 12 mention in 2008, with senior Castine Bridges and sophomore Carl Gettis winning honorable mention all-league acclaim for their play on the Tigers' 10-4 squad. Gettis further established himself as one of the top young defensive backs in the Big 12 Conference as he ranked 5th on the Tiger squad with 78 tackles, 4 pass break ups and 1 interception. Bridges closed out his Tiger career with 69 tackles and 1 interception, plus a team-high 7 pass break ups.

Mizzou's cornerbacks turned in a solid 2007 season overall, and were a definite reason that the Tiger defense was one of the best in the Big 12 Conference. True freshman Carl Gettis blossomed under Ford's coaching, as he became a starter early in the year and eventually won 2nd-Team Freshman All-American honors for his play. Senior Darnell Terrell was invited to the NFL Combine in the off-season, and later signed a free-agent contract with the Cleveland Browns.

The Tiger secondary was instrumental in MU's defensive improvement in 2006, and Ford's cornerbacks were a big reason why. Led by junior Darnell Terrell, who earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from league coaches, the Tigers ranked 2nd in the Big 12 Conference, and 37th nationally, in pass defense, permitting 185.69 yards per game on average. That fact was even more impressive, considering that sophomore starting CB Domonique Johnson missed five games due to a knee injury midway through the season.

After losing his top performer from 2004 in Shirdonya Mitchell, Ford helped develop his cornerback unit into one that was dependable and steady in 2005. Mizzou ended the 2005 regular season ranking 4th in the Big 12 in pass defense, allowing an average of 212.55 yards per game.

Senior Marcus King blossomed into a big-play performer for the Tiger secondary in 2005, as he led the team with a career-high 13 passes broken up – including a record-breaking 99-yard interception return for a TD in the Independence Bowl win. King earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors by both league coaches and media for his efforts, and he teamed with fellow senior A.J. Kincade to give the Tigers a dependable tandem. King later went on to earn a free agent contract with the NFL's Dallas Cowboys following the 2006 NFL Draft, and another Ford protégé, Calvin Washington, was invited to the rookie minicamp of the Washington Redskins following the draft as well.

Just about every one of Ford's cornerbacks had career years under his coaching in 2004, and that performance was instrumental in Mizzou's substantial improvement in defense. Thanks in large part to his cornerbacks, Mizzou led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked 3rd nationally in pass defense in 2004, allowing an average of just 149.27 yards per game. His corners grabbed 8 of MU's 15 interceptions in 2004, which was a nice team improvement from a total of 9 in 2003 (including 3 from cornerbacks that year).

Senior Shirdonya Mitchell blossomed into a high-level cornerback in 2004 under Ford's direction, as he ranked 5th in the Big 12 Conference, and 33rd nationally, with his 4 interceptions. Mitchell earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors for his play, in only his second year playing defense, and signed a two-year free agent deal with the Miami Dolphins following the 2005 NFL Draft. Juniors Marcus King and A.J. Kincade also had big years, as King tied for the team lead with four turnovers gained (2 interceptions and 2 fumbles) and led the team with 7 pass break ups, while Kincade had a career-high 2 interceptions, including a game-winning pickoff in overtime of the season finale at Iowa State.

In addition to his coaching duties, Ford has worked hard to earn a reputation as one of the most well-trusted recruiting presences in his area of St. Louis. His hard work and straightforward approach has paid off recently, as he has successfully attracted stars such as Will Franklin, Jeremy Maclin and 2008 signees Blaine Gabbert and Wes Kemp to Mizzou. In 2009, he landed Gateway Tech superstar Sheldon Richardson, who was one of the nation's top overall prospects, and this past February, MU signed a class which ranked 21st-best in the nation according to Rivals.com, and that was the highest ranking ever for a Tiger recruiting class. Ford was also successful in getting Missouri's foot in the door in other St. Louis schools where there hadn't been much Tiger success in recent years.

Ford spent five seasons at Toledo coaching the wide receivers. Toledo graduate Mel Long pulled in 175 receptions in his four-year career, 21 of those for touchdowns. He also held the longest active streak in NCAA Division I for consecutive games with a reception. Under Ford, Long became Toledo's all-time leading receiver.

Before Toledo, Ford coached at Marietta College where he coached the quarterbacks, running backs and receivers, while also serving as the team's strength and conditioning coach. Marietta led the conference in rushing offense in 1994 and 1995 and owned the league's top running back both seasons.

Prior to joining the Marietta staff, Ford served two seasons as a graduate assistant at Toledo. He helped with the offensive line in 1992 and the secondary in 1991.

Ford holds a bachelor's degree (1991) in physical education and a master's degree (1993) in sports administration from Toledo.

He and his wife, Dawn, are the parents of a son, Devin, and a daughter, Taylor.

Alex Grinch

Safeties
2nd Year at Mizzou
Grove City, Ohio
Mount Union, 2002

In his second year as a full-time member of the Mizzou coaching staff is Assistant Coach Alex Grinch, who was hired in January of 2012 as safeties coach. Grinch returned to Mizzou after serving as part of Gary Pinkel's staff from 2002-04 in a graduate assistant role, and he came to the Tiger staff after a very successful run with other programs.

Grinch's first year at Mizzou saw him get solid play from his starting safeties Kenronte Walker and Braylon Webb. Walker finished the 2012 season with 71 tackles (5th-most on the team) and won the first-ever SEC Defensive Player of the Week honors for a Tiger, when he claimed the award for a big performance in a win over Arizona State in week three. Webb ranked 6th on the squad with a career-best 64 tackles.

Prior to joining on at MU, Grinch spent three seasons coaching the Wyoming secondary for former Mizzou assistant Dave Christensen. Three of his Cowboy defensive backs earned postseason honors in 2011, as Wyoming reached a bowl game for the second time in three seasons. Senior free safety Tashaun Gipson and junior strong safety Luke Ruff both earned Second Team All-Mountain West honors in 2011. True freshman cornerback Blair Burns was named First Team Freshman All-American by CBSSports.com and Honorable Mention Freshman All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com. Burns was also an Honorable Mention All-Mountain West honoree.

Wyoming concluded the 2011 regular season ranked No. 34 in the nation in pass defense, allowing only 202.2 yards passing per game. The Cowboys ranked No. 1 in the Mountain West and tied for No. 5 in the NCAA in most turnovers gained (31 total). UW's defense also led the MW and ranked No. 4 nationally in most fumbles recovered (18) and was No. 3 in the conference and No. 32 in the nation in most passes intercepted (13 total). Individually, Burns tied for No. 2 in the Mountain West and No. 23 in the nation in interceptions (4). Gipson tied for No. 4 in the conference and No. 65 in the NCAA in interceptions (3), and Ruff ranked No. 5 in the conference and tie for No. 77 in the nation in tackles (8.1 per game).

In 2011, Wyoming ranked among the Top Five most-improved teams in the nation, and its eight wins were the most by the Cowboys since 1998. UW finished in sole possession of third place in the Mountain West behind only Top 25 teams TCU and Boise State. Wyoming's eight wins included key conference road victories over Air Force and San Diego State. The only two conference losses for the Cowboys came at the hands of the Horned Frogs and the Broncos.

In Grinch's first two seasons, he coached former Cowboy free safety Chris Prosinski, who was drafted in the fourth round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Jacksonville Jaguars. Prosinski was the 121st overall pick in the draft and also earned Second Team All-Mountain West honors his senior season of 2010. For the second consecutive season, Prosinski recorded over 100 tackles and led Wyoming in tackles. He was credited with 108 tackles in his senior season, and concluded his career ranked No. 4 in career tackles at UW with 373.

Grinch joined the Cowboy coaching staff in December of 2008 from the University of New Hampshire. He will be entering his 10th season as a college coach in 2012. In his previous nine seasons coaching at the college level, he helped guide seven of those teams to postseason play, including Wyoming's victory in the 2009 New Mexico Bowl.

Only one starter returned to the Wyoming secondary in 2011, senior cornerback Tashaun Gipson, who earned Honorable Mention All-Conference honors in 2010. Gipson ranked No. 2 in the conference and No. 26 in the nation in passes defended in 2010, averaging 1.00 per game. He also ranked No. 4 in the MW and No. 87 in the NCAA in interceptions, with three picks his junior season.

In 2010, all four starters returned to the Cowboy secondary. That group included 2009 Second Team All-Mountain West free safety Prosinski, Gipson and his older brother Marcell at cornerback and 2009 Freshman All-American Shamiel Gary at strong safety. Prosinski ranked 10th in the NCAA in tackles in 2009, averaging 10.8 per game. His 140 total tackles in `09 ranked as the fourth best single-season total in school history. Gary earned First Team Freshman All-America honors from the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) in `09. He became the first Wyoming Cowboy to earn that honor since the FWAA established the team in 2001. Gary was one of only 28 freshman in the nation to receive the honor. Of those 28 freshman honored, he was one of only 14 true freshmen named to the team.

Grinch coached at New Hampshire for four seasons from 2005 through 2008. His first two seasons at New Hampshire, he coached the cornerbacks before being promoted to secondary coach and recruiting coordinator for the 2007 and 2008 seasons. In Grinch's final season at New Hampshire, the Wildcats concluded the season ranked No. 7 in the nation in the final Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) Coaches' Poll and were ranked No. 8 in the final Sports Network Rankings. UNH advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2008 FCS Playoffs, defeating Southern Illinois, 29-20, on the road in the first round before losing at Northern Iowa, 34-36, in the quarters.

During Grinch's four seasons at New Hampshire, the Wildcats posted records of 11-2 in 2005, 9-4 in 2006, 7-5 in 2007 and 10-2 in 2008. UNH advanced to the FCS Quarterfinals in 2005, 2006 and 2008. The Wildcats also made it to the First Round of the Playoffs in 2007. The 2005 squad was the No. 1 seed entering the FCS Playoffs after capturing the Atlantic 10 Conference Co-Championship. In 2006, UNH defeated Northwestern of the Big Ten in the season opener. The following season, New Hampshire defeated another Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) team in Marshall.

Grinch coached two Second Team All-CAA defensive backs in 2008. Senior John Clements was named Second Team at safety and sophomore Dino Vasso earned Second Team honors at cornerback. In 2007, Grinch coached First Team All-Conference senior safety Jeff Pammer and Second Team All-Conference junior cornerback Clements. The 2006 season saw Clements earn Third Team All-Conference honors as a corner. His first season at New Hampshire, Grinch tutored Second Team All-Conference honoree Corey Graham, a cornerback, who was drafted in the fifth round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the Chicago Bears. Graham was selected to play in the 2012 NFL Pro Bowl as a special teams ace. As recruiting coordinator his final two seasons at New Hampshire, Grinch oversaw all of the Wildcats' recruiting efforts.

Prior to his four seasons as an assistant coach at UNH, Grinch was the defensive graduate assistant coach at Missouri for the 2003 and 2004 campaigns, and was an administrative graduate assistant at Mizzou for the 2002 season. The Tiger defense ranked No. 2 in the Big XII Conference in total defense in 2004 and was No. 1 in pass defense. The 2003 season saw Mizzou post an 8-5 record and advance to the Independence Bowl.

Grinch enjoyed an outstanding college playing career at Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio. He was a member of three NCAA Division III National Championship teams at Mount Union in 1998, 2000 and 2001. Over his four-year career, Grinch's Mount Union teams posted a 54-1 record and won four consecutive Ohio Athletic Conference Championships.

His senior season of 2001, he was named a Third Team All-America safety by D3football.com. He also earned National Defensive Player of the Week honors twice during his career from Don Hansen's National Football Gazette. Not only did he receive All-America honors on the field, but Grinch was a First Team Academic All-Conference selection his senior season.

He completed his bachelor's degree in sports management with a focus in marketing and a minor in business administration from Mount Union in May 2002, and earned a master's degree in educational leadership and policy analysis from Mizzou in December 2004.

Grinch was married to the former Rebecca Blaser of Alliance, Ohio on June 28, 2003. Their first child, son Tyler, was born during the Grinches' first year at Wyoming on Nov. 23, 2009. Their second child, daughter Corbi Elaine Grinch, was born on July 8, 2011.

Brian Jones

Running Backs
13th Year at Mizzou
Falmouth, Jamaica
Connecticut, 1980

Brian Jones has been a member of Gary Pinkel's coaching staff since 1992. He has coached an excellent running game for the last 18 seasons, after initially coaching wide receivers from 1992-94.

While Mizzou's spread offense has a reputation as a wide-open pass-heavy attack, Jones has helped produce a very productive run game which has resulted in 1,000-yard rushing seasons by Tiger tailbacks in five of the last seven years.

The 2012 season was more of the same, as senior Kendial Lawrence worked behind an offensive line wracked with injuries, but still managed to turn out a 1,025-yard and 12-touchdown season. Lawrence ranked 6th in the Southeastern Conference in rushing.

In 2011, Jones oversaw the transformation of the Tiger offensive attack into one of the nation's most balanced, as Mizzou was one of just two schools nationally to average at least 230 yards rushing and passing.

His tailbacks carried a big load in 2011, as the Tigers won the Big 12 Conference team rushing title, averaging a league-best 244.00 yards per game (ranking them 9th in the NCAA). Led by super sophomore Henry Josey, who ranked 2nd in the Big 12 (12th nationally), averaging 116.80 yards a game before ending his season early in game #10 against Texas. Despite his early end to the season, Josey earned unanimous 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors after beginning the year at No. 3 on the depth chart.

Jones and his troops also rose to the challenge in 2010, as a talented group of tailbacks combined in committee style to rush for over 1,500 yards and 19 touchdowns as the Tiger run game ranked sixth in the Big 12 overall, averaging 156.38 yards per game (2,033 yards all told on the season).

In 2008, Jones took a first-year starter with limited prior experience, in true sophomore Derrick Washington, and helped mold him into one of the Big 12 Conference's top running backs. Washington became only the eighth running back in Mizzou history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, as he tallied 1,036 on 177 carries (5.9 avg.) in 2008. He added 17 rushing touchdowns in his first year as a starter, which was just one shy of the school single season record.

The 2009 season saw the Tiger run game contribute with 1,651 yards, of which 1,342 came from the trio of junior Derrick Washington, sophomore De'Vion Moore and true freshman Kendial Lawrence. Washington earned honorable mention All-Big 12 acclaim for his season, which included 865 rushing yards and 10 touchdowns, to go with 26 receptions out of the backfield.

Of the eight Tiger running backs with 1,000-yard seasons, Jones has coached four of them in his time on the Mizzou sideline, including one each in three consecutive years, from 2006-08.

Jones helped develop Tony Temple into one of the top ball carriers in the Big 12 Conference in recent years, as the Kansas City, Mo., native ranked second in the league in rushing in 2006, with a career-high 1,063 yards and seven touchdowns, and followed with a 1,039-yard, 12-touchdown campaign in 2008, becoming the first running back in Mizzou history to claim multiple 1,000-yard seasons.

Temple closed his Tiger career in illustrious fashion, as he broke a 52-year old record by rushing for a Cotton Bowl-record 284 yards and four touchdowns in Mizzou's rout of Arkansas. The yardage total was also the second-most in the history of Division I-A bowl games.

With Mizzou's high-flying passing game getting most of the headlines, it's easy to overlook the fact that the Tigers also run the ball very well and very often. Mizzou ran for just under 2,500 yards in 2007 (2,467), and amassed 29 rushing touchdowns as well, providing a nice compliment to the air game. They followed with 2,153 yards and 28 rushing scores in 2008.

Temple earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status by league coaches in both 2006 and 2007. He also ran for 194 yards and two touchdowns in the 2006 Sun Bowl against Oregon State.

Despite their overall youth, and some injury problems for each one throughout the year, Jones' group made steady progress in 2005, and contributed heavily to MU's rushing attack, which ranked 3rd in the Big 12 Conference, and 17th in the NCAA, averaging 205.25 yards per game. Mizzou's tailbacks combined to rush for more than 1,100 yards and tallied 8 TDs in 2005, averaging a healthy 5.6 yards per carry. In May of 2006, Jones was one of only 25 coaches selected to participate in the prestigious NCAA Expert Coaches Academy.

Jones' backs rushed for over 1,200 yards and had 9 of MU's 13 rushing TDs on the season in 2004. They were led by junior Damien Nash, who had 792 yards and 7 TDs, and redshirt freshman Marcus Woods, who had 428 yards and 2 scores. Woods was named 1st-Team Freshman All-Big 12 for his efforts in 2004. Nash was a 5th-round draft pick by the Tennessee Titans in the 2005 NFL Draft.

Mizzou had one of the nation's most potent rushing attacks in 2003, as the Tigers pounded their way to 3,087 yards, good for a per-game average of 237.46 yards that ranked MU 1st in the Big 12 Conference and 6th in the NCAA statistics. It marked the first time since 1960 that MU won a conference rushing championship, when the Tigers led the old Big Eight with a mark of 249.3 yards per game. Missouri rushed for 38 touchdowns on the year, on the way to scoring a school single-season record 399 points.

Jones' workhorse from 2001-03 was tailback Zack Abron. Abron thrived under Jones' coaching and turned himself into one of the top backs in the Big 12 Conference. Abron rushed for a career-best 1,155 yards in 2003, making him only the 7th 1,000-yard rusher in MU history.

Abron set numerous career records in 2003, as he left MU holding the standard in rushing yards (3,198), touchdowns (42) and points (252). He improved his average yards per rush from 3.6 as a freshman in 2000 to a healthy 5.3 in 2003, and also worked with Jones to develop himself into a pass-catching threat out of the backfield. Abron was named 2nd-Team All-Big 12 in 2003 for his work, and went on to sign a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons following the 2004 Draft.

During Jones' last two seasons at Toledo, UT's running attack was ranked in the top-10 in the country. In 2000, the Rockets' running game ranked ninth in the country, racking up 253.8 yards per game. UT compiled 2,792 yards on the ground and averaged 5.43 yards per carry. In 1999, Toledo ranked 10th in the country in rushing, compiling 239.2 yards per outing and ranked No. 1 in the nation in yards per attempt (5.35). Jones' protégé Chester Taylor racked up 1,176 yards and ranked 20th in the country, while his rushing average of 6.5 yards per carry ranked second-best in the nation.

In 1995, Toledo led the league and ranked fifth in the nation in rushing, averaging 244.5 yards per game. The Rockets' starting tailback that season, Wasean Tait was the named the MAC Player of the Year and garnered second team All-America honors ranking second in the nation in rushing and third in scoring.

Jones came to Toledo from Lafayette College where he served as the wide receivers coach for one season. Prior to that, Jones served three years each as an assistant coach with Massachusetts (1988-91) and Villanova (1984-87).

Jones was an offensive lineman at the University of Connecticut, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in marketing in 1980. He also holds a Master of Science degree in administration and physical education from Norwich (1983).

Jones was born in Jamaica and raised in New York City. He and his wife, Mary Kay, are the parents of sons Grant and Brandon, and daughter Audrey.

Craig Kuligowski

Defensive Line
13th Year at Mizzou
Southgate, Mich.
Toledo, 1991

Craig Kuligowski is in his 22nd season alongside Gary Pinkel, including his 18th season coaching the defensive line. One of the more accomplished assistant coaches in the nation, Kuligowski has coached six Tigers to 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors, including four in the last six seasons – Lorenzo Williams in 2007, followed by Ziggy Hood in 2008, Aldon Smith in 2010 and Dominique Hamilton in 2011.

Sheldon Richardson developed into one of the top defensive tackles in the nation in 2012, and claimed 2nd-Team All-SEC honors for his play, which included leading all SEC linemen in tackles (75). Richardson is expected to be a high-round selection in April's 2013 NFL Draft.

Hamilton was an anchor on the line for Mizzou in 2011, as he led all Big 12 interior linemen with his 56 tackles, and he also helped clinch a pair of dramatic wins at Texas A&M and against Texas Tech when he deflected passes to end each game.

The 2010 season saw Smith earn 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors despite missing three games with a broken leg early in the year. Following his sophomore season, Smith chose to bypass his final two years of eligibility and was a first-round draft pick in the 2011 NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers, where he blossomed into one the league's top defensive rookies in 2011. Smith amassed 19.5 sacks in 2012, and earned All-Pro acclaim while helping lead the 49ers to the Super Bowl.

Smith wasn't the only Kuligowski protégé to earn acclaim in 2010, as five linemen in all took home honors, including sophomore end Brad Madison (2nd-Team), junior end Jacquies Smith (Hon. Men.), junior tackle Terrell Resonno (Hon. Men.)

Coach "Kul" debuted a star pupil in 2009 – redshirt freshman end Aldon Smith – who turned out to be one of the top freshmen in the entire nation. Smith was named the Big 12 Conference Defensive Freshman/Newcomer of the Year, in unanimous fashion, and he also earned 3rd-Team All-American honors, as well as 1st-Team Freshman All-American honors for his outstanding play in 2009.

Smith broke the MU single-season quarterback sacks record in 2009, with 11.5 to surpass the old mark of 11 set in 2000 by former All-American Justin Smith. Aldon Smith also had 19 tackles for loss in his first year on the field for Mizzou, and he led all of the nation's freshmen in both sacks and tackles for loss a year ago. Smith was joined by senior Jaron Baston (2nd-Team All-Big 12) in receiving all-conference honors in 2009.

Kuligowski's defensive line was stout against the run in 2009, as it helped the Tiger defense to a national ranking of 26th against the run (allowing 118.62 yards per game). The ranking and yards allowed were the lowest by any Mizzou defense against the run since the 1983 team ranked 5th in the country with an average of 97.70 yards per game.

Hood, and another star disciple, defensive end Stryker Sulak (who earned 2nd-Team All-Big 12 mention in both 2007 and 2008) were invited to participate in the 2009 NFL Combine, and both were eventually taken in the 2009 NFL Draft, with Hood going in the first round with the 32nd overall pick by the defending Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers, with Sulak going in the 6th round to the Oakland Raiders. Sulak ended his career tied for second on Mizzou's quarterback sacks list, with 22.5, while Hood finished 10th with 15.5 for his career.

In 2007, Kuligowski coached all four of his starters on the Tiger defensive line to at least honorable mention All-Big 12 honors, including Lorenzo Williams, who claimed 1st-Team mention for his outstanding play.

The 2006 season also saw Kuligowski's pupils succeed at a high level, as he coached standout defensive ends Brian Smith, Xzavie Jackson and tackle Lorenzo Williams to All-Big 12 honors, with Smith earning 2nd-Team mention, while Jackson and Williams won their first-ever honorable mention acclaim.

Despite being hurt severely by injuries in 2006, the Tiger defensive line was a disruptive force early and often, as they amassed 28 combined sacks of MU's overall 36 sacks on the season which were the second-most in school history (41 sacks in 1982 is the MU record). Smith was a catalyst, as he broke MU's career sack record before breaking his hip in game eight against Kansas State. Jackson and Williams stepped up in Smith's absence, and rank on MU's alltime career top-10 in sacks.

Facing arguably the biggest rebuilding job at any position on the team in 2005, Kuligowski oversaw a defensive line that grew into a solid unit, despite losing three starters from 2004 to the NFL. Junior defensive end Brian Smith blossomed into an every-down player, and had a monster year, ranking among the best in the Big 12 Conference with 9 QB sacks, 17 tackles for loss and 12 QB hurries, to go along with his career-high total of 66 tackles. Smith earned 2nd-Team All-Big 12 accolades for his performance.

Kuligowski's line was a focal point for the Tiger defense in 2004, and a major reason for the overall improvement of the defense. Three of his pupils – tackles Atiyyah Ellison and C.J. Mosley, and end Brian Smith – earned various All-Big 12 honors for their play in 2004, with Ellison and Mosley pulling in 1st-Team distinction. Redshirt freshman Lorenzo Williams also earned 1st-Team Freshman All-Big 12 honors by The Sporting News.

Two of Kuligowski's protégés were drafted as part of the 2005 NFL Draft, as tackles Atiyyah Ellison (3rd round) and C.J. Mosley (6th round) were picked by the Carolina Panthers and Minnesota Vikings, respectively. Later, defensive end Zach Ville signed a free agent deal with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Kuligowski's line has steadily improved against the run since he arrived in 2001. In 2006, Mizzou allowed 134.54 yards per game on the ground, which ranked 58th nationally. The 2004 Tiger outfit allowed 152.09 yards rushing per game, which ranked them 64th in the nation. In 2005, the numbers were virtually identical, with an average of 152.18 yards per game that ranked MU 63rd nationally. That followed a mark of 167.23 yards per game in 2003, which ranked them 72nd in NCAA statistics. That marked an improvement from a rank of 78th in 2002 (167.75 ypg) and 89th in 2001 (198.73).

Under Kuligowski's leadership, the Tiger defensive line proved to be the strength of MU's defense in 2002. Led by senior tackle Keith Wright and senior end Antwaun Bynum, the Tiger front four was a constant disruptive force for opposing teams. Wright led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked in the top-10 nationally, with 23 tackles for loss in 2002, while Bynum ranked among conference leaders in sacks, fumbles forced and tackles for loss.

Bynum earned first team All-Big 12 honors in 2002, and was named an honorable mention All-American by CNNSI.com, while Wright was a first team All-Big 12 pick by various outlets. Wright's development led to him being a 6th-round selection by the Houston Texans in the 2003 NFL Draft.

Kuligowski was credited with building one of the top defensive lines in the MAC during his tenure at Toledo. In 2000, the Rockets were ranked fifth in the country in rushing defense, allowing just 81.5 yards per game and 2.46 yards per carry. They were ranked third in the country in scoring defense, third in total defense and No. 1 in turnover margin.

Kuligowski was a four-year standout at Toledo (1987-90) as an offensive tackle. He was named first team All-MAC two straight years and helped lead UT to the MAC title his senior year. He was an integral part of the 1990 offense that turned in totals of 135 rushing first downs, 2,474 rushing yards and 4,335 total yards, all top five marks in Toledo history.

Kuligowski earned a bachelor of business administration degree from Toledo in 1991. He and his wife Mary have two daughters: Peyton and Madeline, and son Max, who was born in March of 2005.

Bruce Walker

Co-Offensive Line
13th Year at Mizzou
East Wenatchee, Wash.
C. Washington, 1983

Bruce Walker made a move in 2009 to serve as co-offensive line coach, a position he had assisted with for the previous 13 seasons under Gary Pinkel, while also being in charge of the tight ends. He made a name for himself one of the top tight ends coaches in the nation the past several years, as he helped develop Martin Rucker and Chase Coffman into two of the most accomplished players in the nation. Each won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors in 2007 (Rucker) and 2008 (Coffman), and Coffman capped his record-breaking career by winning the John Mackey Tight End Award, given annually to the nation's top player at that position. Coffman became the first Tiger in history to win a national individual honor that is specific to a position group.

The 2012 season saw the Tiger offensive line dealt setback after setback with decimating injuries. None of the five anticipated starters was able to play in all 12 games, and at one point in the season, Mizzou was faced with starting a true freshman, a redshirt freshman and a former walk-on in the heat of SEC action.

A bright spot for the line in 2012 was the development of true freshman guard Evan Boehm. Boehm was the only lineman to make all 12 starts, and his solid play eventually landed him 1st-Team Freshman All-American honors from College Football News.

In Walker's first year as co-offensive line coach in 2009, his group excelled at protecting first-year starting quarterback Blaine Gabbert. Thanks to the line's work, Mizzou ranked 14th in the nation in passing while allowing only 20 sacks in 13 games. Three of Walker's linemen – senior Kurtis Gregory (2nd-Team), and sophomores Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Dan Hoch (Hon. Men.) – all earned Big 12 award status. Gregory eventually earned an invitation to the NFL Combine for his stellar play.

It was more of the same from Walker's group in 2010, as the Tiger offensive line helped pave the way for an attack that ranked 35th in the nation, averaging 409.62 yards per game as Mizzou won 10 games for only the fourth time in school history. Four of Walker's starting five on the line earned some level of all-conference honors, including senior center Tim Barnes (1st-Team), junior tackle Dan Hoch (2nd-Team), junior tackle Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and junior guard Austin Wuebbels (Hon. Men.).

In 2011, the Tiger offensive line – despite the pre-season loss of All-Big 12 left tackle Elvis Fisher to a season-ending injury – developed into a stout unit that paved the way for a Big 12 team rushing title in 2011. The Tigers ranked 9th nationally, and led the Big 12 in rushing (244.00 avg.) and also ranked 12th nationally in total offense (475.54 avg.), despite featuring a first-year starter at quarterback.

From 2004-08, Walker had the luxury of working with the best pair of tight ends in the nation, in Martin Rucker and Chase Coffman. Rucker culminated his outstanding Tiger career with an award-winning season in 2007, as he was a consensus 1st-Team All-American, becoming MU's first All-American tight end since the great Kellen Winslow in 1978. Rucker caught an MU-record 84 passes in 2007 for 834 yards and 8 touchdowns, while also being a finalist for the John Mackey Tight End Award. Rucker was selected in the fourth round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns.

Coffman caught 90 passes for 987 yards and 10 touchdowns in 2008, despite missing two games due to injury, and he ended his career with school records of 247 receptions and 30 touchdowns, to go with the 2nd-most receiving yardage in MU history (2,659). He was a third-round NFL Draft pick in 2009 by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Each player won 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors in 2006 (Rucker from coaches, Coffman from media), and Coffman was a semi-finalist for the John Mackey Award. The duo combined to catch 111 passes for 1,149 yards and 14 touchdowns in 2006.

In 2005, Rucker earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors after leading MU with 47 catches for 567 yards and 1 TD, with his catches ranking 1st among Big 12 tight ends in 2005, and 2nd-most in MU single-season history for the position. Coffman, despite being a true freshman, was nothing but impressive from day one in fall camp, as he tied Rucker with 47 catches for 503 yards and 4 TDs. Those numbers ranked at the time as the 3rd-best single-season performance in MU tight end history, and earned the rookie a spot on the Rivals.com Freshman All-American 1st-Team.

In 2004, the tight ends were instrumental in MU's passing attack, with the primary weapons being senior Victor Sesay and redshirt freshman Martin Rucker. The duo combined for 50 catches, 577 yards and 6 touchdowns on the season. Rucker earned 2nd-Team Freshman All-American honors for his standout rookie year that saw him grab 19 balls for 263 yards and 4 TDs.

In 2001, Missouri tight ends combined for 50 receptions, 484 yards and eight touchdowns. Dwayne Blakley was tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12 after pulling in 34 receptions for 362 yards and four touchdowns. He went on to sign a free agent contract with the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs, and started multiple games during the 2007 season.

Walker has successfully recruited some of the best high school players out of the state of Texas while at Mizzou. Walker signed highly-regarded all-state defensive end Brian Smith (Denton) in 2002. Smith went on to become Mizzou's alltime career quarterback sacks leader and was drafted by the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars. Walker more recently signed Jacquies Smith of Dallas, who made big impressions while earning significant playing time in 2008 as a true freshman defensive end. His recruiting bounty of several stars in 2010 helped the Tiger recruiting class garner a national ranking of 21st-best in the nation – the highest a Tiger class has ever been ranked.

While at Toledo, Walker coached some of the best tight ends to ever wear a Rockets' uniform, including All-MAC tight end Mike Bilik, who finished his career with 75 receptions.

In 1993, behind Walker's offensive line, the Central Washington led all NAIA schools in total offense, averaging 517 yards per game. CWU also ranked first in the NAIA in rushing, averaging 198.5 yards per game. In 1995, the Wildcats earned a share of the NAIA national title, tying Findlay (OH) in the title game.

The quarterback of that team, Jon Kitna, finished his career with 12,907 yards in total offense and 12,353 passing yards, the best and second-best, respectively, in NAIA Division II history.

Walker graduated from Eastmont High School in East Wenatchee, Wash., where he earned All-Mid Valley League honors at linebacker and center. He played two seasons at Yakima Valley College before Central Washington.

A 1983 graduate of CWU, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration, Walker was a two-year starter for the Wildcats at center. He earned a Master of Science degree in physical education in 1989.

Walker and wife, Sharryn, are the parents of Natalie and Maggie.

Pat Washington

Receivers
1st Year at Mizzou
Mobile, Ala.
Auburn, 1987

Pat Washington, a long-time coach and former player in the Southeastern Conference, joined the University of Missouri football coaching staff in January as the Tigers' new receivers coach.

Washington, a 26-year collegiate coaching veteran, has 16 years of experience under his belt on four different SEC staffs, including an 11-year stint as wide receivers coach at Tennessee (1995-2005), which included an undefeated 1998 season and a national championship for the Volunteers.

Washington, 49, has also coached in the SEC at Mississippi State (2007-08) and Kentucky (2012), and he began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for two years (1987-88) at his alma mater, Auburn, where he was a successful starting quarterback for the Tigers previously.

Washington has enjoyed success all throughout his career, as he's coached on teams which have reached bowl games 18 times. Tennessee posted a sterling 105-31 record in his tenure there which featured 10 bowl appearances - including three Citrus Bowls, two Fiesta, Peach and Cotton Bowls, and one Orange Bowl. The Volunteers also reached the SEC Championship Game four times with Washington on staff. A win in the 1998 title game vaulted UT to the 1999 Fiesta Bowl, where the Vols downed Florida State, 23-16, to cap an undefeated season and a national championship.

During his tenure at Tennessee, Washington developed a line of standout receivers, including Peerless Price, Donte Stallworth, Joey Kent, Marcus Nash, Robert Meachem and Cedrick Wilson, among others. Nash, Stallworth and Meachem were National Football League first-round draft picks, and all six enjoyed NFL careers.

"We are very pleased to have someone of Pat's caliber and experience join our team," said Pinkel, who will enter his 13th year at Mizzou in 2013. "Pat knows the SEC very well, he's been a coach and player in the league for two decades in total, and the success he's had on the field and in developing players is very impressive," said Pinkel.

"I am really excited about the opportunity to join the family at Mizzou," said Washington. "I've admired their program over the years and the success that Coach Pinkel and his staff have had. The SEC is such a great conference, and I look forward to stepping in and helping move the program forward. I believe the receiving group here is a highly-talented group of young men. It's a group that can make a difference and help us win football games, and I'm eager to get to work with them and to help mentor them and develop them on and off the field into the best receiving group in the SEC," he said.

Washington's coaching career began at Auburn, where he served his alma mater as a graduate assistant coach from 1987-88. After the Tigers reached bowl games both years, Washington landed his first full-time position in the industry, as the receivers coach at Louisiana-Lafayette (1989-91), and that was followed by a two-year stop at TCU

(1992-93) as receivers coach. He spent one year at Baylor (1994) as running backs coach, and the Bears reached the 1994 Alamo Bowl during his time there, before he left to join Tennessee the next year.

Following his time at UT, Washington coached receivers at Kansas State in 2006, helping the Wildcats to a berth in the Texas Bowl. Two of his wideouts, Jordy Nelson and Yamon Figurs, went on to play in the NFL.

Washington returned to the SEC next, as the receivers coach at Mississippi State from 2007-08. The Bulldogs broke a six-year postseason drought during his time there, as MSU won the 2007 AutoZone Liberty Bowl. From 2009-11, Washington coached running backs at Southern Mississippi, and his backfield played an integral role in Southern Miss' Conference USA Championship in 2011. He spent the 2012 season at Kentucky as wide receivers coach and passing game coordinator.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Washington played quarterback at Auburn from 1982-85, with the Tigers reaching bowl games all four years. He was the starter his final two seasons, and guided Auburn to a combined 17-8 record in those years and to 1984 Liberty Bowl and 1986 Cotton Bowl appearances. His backfield mate, Bo Jackson, won the Heisman Trophy in 1985. Washington, who earned a management degree from Auburn in 1987, and his wife, Claudette, are the parents of sons Tyson and Justin.

Nick Otterbacher

Director of Football Recruiting
10th Year at Mizzou
Tampa, Fla.
Toledo, 2002

In his 10th year as part of the Tiger coaching staff – and seventh in his title of director of football recruiting – is Nick Otterbacher. He assumed those duties after serving as an offensive graduate assistant coach for the 2006 season, when he helped coach a Tiger offense that broke numerous school records and ranked eighth in the nation in total offense (425.62 yards per game).

In his current role, Otterbacher oversees organizational efforts of virtually all aspects of MU's extensive recruiting program operations, such as coordinating on-and-off campus visits, mailings and other logistical arrangements. Mizzou's 2010 recruiting class was ranked 21st-best in the nation according to Rivals.com, which marked the highest-ever ranking for a Tiger class of recruits. The 2012 class was ranked as high as No. 20 by ESPN.com, and featured the nation's No. 1 overall prospect in Dorial Green-Beckham from Springfield, Mo..

Otterbacher served as an offensive graduate assistant coach for the 2005 and 2006 seasons, after serving on staff as an administrative graduate assistant in 2004.

A native of Tampa, Fla., Otterbacher was a four-year starter at center for the University of Toledo, where he played under Tiger Head Coach Gary Pinkel through the 2000 season. In his four-year playing career, Otterbacher was part of Toledo teams that went a combined 34-13 from 1998-2001, and won or shared three Mid-American Athletic Conference championships, while playing in the Motor City Bowl in 2001.

After graduating from Toledo with a degree in business management in May of 2002, Otterbacher got his start in coaching at Duquesne University, where he served as the tight ends and assistant offensive line coach for the 2002 season which saw Duquesne post an 11-1 record and claim the Metro Atlantic Conference championship.

He then went to West Virginia Tech as an assistant coach, and was the offensive line coach and run game coordinator and recruiting coordinator for the 2003 season, prior to joining the Mizzou staff in July of 2004.

He and his wife, Jessica, have a daughter, Reagan, and a son, Kaine Charles Cotton Otterbacher, who was born in Dallas, Texas, the week of MU's 2008 Cotton Bowl victory over Arkansas.

Dan Hopkins

Director of Football Operations
Seventh Year at Mizzou
Harrisonville, Mo.
Missouri, 2004

Dan Hopkins, a 2004 University of Missouri graduate, is in his fifth season as Director of Football Operations, after being promoted to that post prior to the 2009 season. Previously, he spent two years as the Tiger Football staff's administrative graduate assistant.

In his current role, Hopkins is involved in a wide variety of important administrative duties that involve the Tiger program.

Some of his many duties include overseeing the coordination of the team's travel plans, oversight of the football budget, handling compliance issues, scheduling of facilities, assisting with recruiting operations and managing the day-to-day overall operations for the football program. He was also a lead figure in planning and executing the Tigers' trips to Houston, Texas for the 2009 Texas Bowl, to the Phoenix, Ariz. area for the 2010 Insight Bowl and to Shreveport, La., for the 2011 Independence Bowl.

Hopkins also is responsible for coordinating all public relations activities and community service events that require the presence of football student-athletes.

The Harrisonville, Mo. native made a return to his alma mater prior to the 2007 season as a graduate assistant coach, where he assisted the Tiger coaching staff with various recruiting administrative duties throughout the year, as well as lending a hand with scouting and game preparation efforts during the season.

A 2004 graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, Hopkins served as a student assistant coach for the Mizzou Football team for the 2003 and 2004 seasons. Following his graduation, he served as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at William Jewell College for two seasons, before moving to Central Missouri State University, where he was the defensive graduate assistant coach for the 2006 season.

Hopkins is currently pursuing his Master's degree in health education and promotion at Mizzou.

Kathryn Lucchesi

Director of Football Multimedia
Fifth Year at Mizzou
Springfield, Ill.
Missouri, 2009

Kathryn Lucchesi is in her fifth football season overall, and her third at a specially created position - Director of Football Multimedia. She took up this new title after spending two very successful seasons as the program's Multimedia Graduate Assistant, where she helped increase the reach and profile of Mizzou Football in various online and social media platforms.

You can usually find Lucchesi on the sideline of football games and practices shooting highlights. She shoots and edits numerous videos and photos for the team's popluar web site and blog, WeAreMizzou.com. She also assists the Tiger coaching staff with various recruiting duties throughout the year.

A graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, with an emphasis in Broadcasting, Lucchesi joined the Mizzou staff in the fall of 2009 as a graduate assistant, where she helped the program grow in the social media world.

Before working with the athletic department, Lucchesi was a reporter and anchor at KOMU-TV8 in Columbia. She began as a news reporter, but focused her stories on sports during her last year at the television station, and she contributed heavily to the This Week In Mizzou Football television show throughout the season.

Justin Kramer

Assistant Director of Recruiting
Second Year at Mizzou
Liberty, Mo.
Southern Illinois

Justin Kramer is in his second year at Mizzou in his role as assistant director of recruiting. He came to Mizzou from Southeast Missouri State, where he coached for six seasons (tight ends/offensive tackles), while also serving as the Redhawks' recruiting coordinator.

Kramer is responsible for many facets of Mizzou's extensive year-round recruiting operation, as the Tiger coaching staff looks to extend its presence in the southeast region of the country following MU's move to the SEC.

At SEMO, Kramer coached four First-Team All-Ohio Valley Conference offensive linemen in 2010. Evan Conrad, who is rated among the Sports Network's Top-10 Football Championship Subdivision players at his position this year, was the only non-senior offensive lineman to earn First-Team All-Conference honors for the Redhawks a year ago. Conrad is a Preseason All-OVC pick entering the 2011 campaign. Kramer also coached 3 All-Americans and 1 Rimington Award winners which goes to the nations top center every year.

Kramer's offensive line paved the way for the nation's No. 3 rushing offense in 2010. The Redhawks averaged 265.1 yards per game. The offensive line also led the nation in fewest sacks allowed, giving up just six in 12 games.

As SEMO's recruiting coordinator, Kramer had a big hand in assembling this year's 25-member class which rates as the second-largest under head coach Tony Samuel.

Kramer initially joined the Southeast coaching staff as a graduate assistant in 2006, where he worked with the defensive line and coached current Kansas City Chief, Edgar Jones. He also served as the team's director of football operations for a year and a half.

A native of Liberty, Mo., Kramer played four years on the offensive line at Southern Illinois University. He was part of a remarkable turnaround at SIU, which saw the Salukis win three-straight conference titles and make the NCAA Playoffs on three occasions.

He is married to Killian Kramer and lives in Columbia.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS RANKINGS

Beginning in 1936, the Associated Press polled a group of broadcasters and sports writers from around the nation, asking them to rank the various college football teams. Although other polls have come and gone, the AP's is the only one that has run in the nation's newspapers every year since 1936.

From this point forward, AP rankings for Missouri and its opponents are listed. A number in parenthesis appearing before an opponent's name indicates Missouri's ranking. A number in parenthesis appearing after an opponent's name is its ranking. "R" indicates a team was receiving votes.
